contextualisation of the theatrical landscape from which each woman is writing South African Drama and Theatre from Pre-Colonial Times to the 1990s: an Alternative Reading Mzo Sirayi, 2012-07-09 Mzo Sirayi has embarked on a highly impressive and daring enterprise with the unflinching boldness of a scholar who is driven by a passionate pursuit to set the record straight He manages to pull no punches and make no apologies by being true to his convictions especially within the context of a new South Africa The book adopts a largely historicized critical and analytical perspective which strikingly approximates that of postcolonial theory Owen Seda This new and authoritative book is an excellent addition to the few existing books on black South African drama and theatre South African Drama and Theatre from Pre colonial Times to

Language Aesthetics of Modern African Drama Isaiah Ilo,2013-11-13 The goal of this book is to initiate theoretical discussions on the popular subject of African literary language and the thrust of the contribution apart from theory building is the introduction of the Post indiginist concept next to the well known essentialist and hybrid concepts The study outlines a set of criteria for each aesthetic concept so that literary analysis based on the criteria will verify whether or not they are adequate for understanding explaining and describing African writers language usage It is expected that a language aesthetic theory in the African context may help in the study of individual writers styles and equally address a neglect of descriptive studies in African literary scholarship Two Contemporary African Plays Akinwùmí Íşòlá,Niyi Oladeji,1992 Traditional and Contemporary African Literature ,1976
