Screen Media and the Construction of Nostalgia in Post-Socialist China Zhun Gu, 2023-01-31 This book traces the cultural transformation of nostalgia on the Chinese screen over the past three decades It explores how filmmakers from different generations have engaged politically with China's rapidly changing post socialist society as it has been formed through three mutually constitutive frameworks political discourse popular culture and state led media commercialisation The book offers a new critical model for understanding relationships between filmmakers industry and the State Michael Oakeshott and the Cambridge School on the History of Political Thought Martyn P. Thompson, 2019-05-20 This book is a critique of Cambridge School Historical Contextualism as the currently dominant mode of history of political thought drawing upon Michael Oakeshott's analysis of the logic of historical enquiry While acknowledging that the early Cambridge School work represented a considerable advance towards genuinely historical histories of political thought this work identifies two major historiographical problems that have become increasingly acute The first is general an insufficiently rigorous understanding of the key concept of pastness necessarily presupposed in historical enquiry of all kinds The second is specific to histories of political thought a failure to do justice to the varieties of past political thinking especially differences between ideology and philosophy In addressing these problems the author offers a comprehensive account of the history of political thought that establishes the parameters not just of histories of ideological thinking but also of the much disputed character of histories of political philosophy Since rethinking history of political thought in Oakeshottian terms requires resisting current pressures to turn history into the servant of currently felt needs the book offers a sustained defence of the cultural value of modernist historical enquiry against its opponents An important work for political theorists historians of political thought and those researching intellectual history the philosophy of history and proposed new directions in contemporary historical studies

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Experimental Approaches to Roman Archaeology Lee Graña Nicolaou, Tatiana Ivleva, Bill Griffiths, 2024-12-12 This volume is the first comprehensive overview of Roman experimental archaeology exploring its key themes methodologies and applications through a diverse array of international case studies Experiments simulations and reconstructions are important methods for understanding the past from uncovering how ancient objects and structures were made used destroyed deposited and affected underground to illuminating the experiences of tasting ancient foods fighting alongside comrades or living in replicated structures Although the incorporation of experimentation has had great success in prehistoric studies greater reliance on the wealth of literary and material sources remaining from the classical period has meant that its potential for Roman studies has yet to be fully realised The 26 chapters in this book are divided into 5 thematic parts each of which opens with a contextualizing introduction that frames the detailed case studies found in individual chapters and showcases the actual and potential diversity of experimentation as applied to the Roman past by scholars re enactors and practitioners in the heritage sector In laying out a detailed guide to Roman experimental archaeology the volume as a whole maps its past present and future and provides a firm foundation for further practical research and collaboration In doing so it reasserts that experiments and reconstructions are a significant resource for testing or developing theories rather than merely artistic replicas and that the vast amount of quantifiable data they yield can be invaluable in support of interpretations of relevant archaeological or historical evidence regardless of the period in question and beyond the confines of academia

The Constructed Past Philippe Planel, Peter G. Stone, 2003-09-02 The Constructed Past presents group of powerful images of the past termed in the book construction sites At these sites full scale three dimensional images of the past have been created for a variety of reasons including archaeological experimentation tourism and education Using various case studies the contributors frankly discuss the aims problems and mistakes experienced with reconstruction They encourage the need for on going experimentation and examine the various uses of the sites political economical and educational

Fear of Breakdown Noëlle McAfee, 2019-06-04 What is behind the upsurge of virulent nationalism and intransigent politics across the globe today In Fear of Breakdown No lle McAfee uses psychoanalytic theory to explore the subterranean anxieties behind current crises and the ways in which democratic practices can help work through seemingly intractable political conflicts Working at the intersection of psyche and society McAfee draws on psychoanalyst D W Winnicott s concept of the fear of breakdown to show how hypernationalism stems from unconscious anxieties over the origins of personal and social identities giving rise to temptations to reify exclusionary phantasies of national origins Fear of Breakdown contends that politics needs something that only psychoanalysis has been able to offer an understanding of how to work through anxieties ambiguity fragility and loss in order to create a more democratic politics Coupling robust psychoanalytic theory with concrete democratic practice Fear of Breakdown shows how a politics of working through can help counter a politics of splitting paranoia and demonization McAfee argues for a new approach to deliberative democratic theory not the usual philosopher sanctioned process of reason giving but an affective process of making difficult choices encountering others and mourning what cannot be had

Handbook of Archaeological Theories R. Alexander Bentley, Herbert D. G. Maschner, Christopher Chippindale, 2007-11-09 This handbook gathers original authoritative articles from leading archaeologists to compile the latest thinking about archaeological theory The authors provide a comprehensive picture of the theoretical foundations by which archaeologists contextualize and analyze their archaeological data Student readers will also gain a sense of the immense power that theory has for building interpretations of the past while recognizing the wonderful archaeological traditions that created it An extensive bibliography is included This volume is the single most important reference for current information on contemporary archaeological theories
