A Gift of Observation Peter Miles,1988-01-01 The Game of British East Africa Chauncy Hugh Stigand,1909

The Wedding Present Louise Purbrick,2016-02-17 In this fascinating work Louise Purbrick offers an alternative analysis of contemporary domestic consumption She investigates the ritualized presentation of objects upon marriage and their subsequent cycles of exchange within the domestic sphere Focusing on gift giving in Britain from 1945 to the present comparative context is provided by material from North America and Europe Presenting new material on the enactment of exchange relationships within everyday domesticity the book makes significant historical theoretical and methodological contributions to the analysis of contemporary consumption It also re evaluates consumption theory as well as examining the methodology of recent studies in consumption and domesticity pressing for a more rigorous approach to the use of case studies By considering how the specific contexts in which consumption occurs such as married domesticity can limit possible versions of selfhood The Wedding Present tests the assumption that consuming creates individual identities Thus the book argues consumption cannot be isolated as an explanation of individual or social formation Expository Notes, with Practical Observations, on the New Testament ...
