

Definitions:

- Adjourn - this means to terminate the meeting
- Amend - this means to take the main motion and add or take away something from the motion.
- Appeal - this motion would be called when the chair rules on something and the members think they are wrong. This is the way to correct it.
- Call for the Orders of the Day - this motion is to ask the secretary for the agenda for the meeting.
- Commit or Refer - This is also known as "refer to a committee". This sends the motion to a committee. That committee will give it more attention and will know specific details about the motion. This motion should never be passed in pari pro because it essentially kills the motion.
- Division of a Question - This motion splits the motion into multiple parts.
- Division of the Assembly - the division of the assembly is called when the members in the assembly believe that the vote was incorrect. When this is called, a second form of voting will be called.
- Fix the Time to Which to Adjourn - this motion is meant to set the time and/or the place for the next meeting to continue business.
- Lay on the Table - this motion puts the main motion on the back burner [table] for more important business. If your principal walks into your meeting and has important information for your chapter. This is when you would lay your motions on the table.
- Limit or Extend Limits of Debate - This motion is used to do basically what is said. It modifies the debate to either limit to a certain time or to a certain amount. The other options are to extend the time for the debate or extend the number of debates. The extension can only be done after you limit the debate.
- Main Motion - This is what the assembly brings to the table and will discuss and therefore make a decision.
- Objection to the Consideration of a Question - Get rid of business that is undesirable or could be damaging to the organization. This motion should never be passed in pari pro because it essentially kills the motion.
- Parliamentary Inquiry - This is when you would like to ask the chair about the salient points of a certain motion. It doesn't have to be all of the salient points either. It could be a question related to the kinds of voting or when to use a certain kind of motion.
