A Guide To The Nature Reserves Of Southern England:

A Guide to the Nature Reserves of Southern England Linda Bennett, Jeremy Hywel-Davies, Valeria Thom, 1989
British Wildlife, 2004 England's 100 Best Views Simon Jenkins, 2013-10-03 England's views are remarkable for their beauty and variety. With his usual insight and authority, bestselling author Simon Jenkins picks 100 of the very best from the white cliffs of Dover to Hadrian's Wall and explains the fascinating stories behind each. Jenkins' entertaining and erudite entries provide the rich historical, geographical, botanical, and architectural background to breathtaking sights, all beautifully illustrated, both iconic and undiscovered. From Gold Hill, the Dorset village street so famously picturesque it was used in a Hovis advert to the view of the City of London famously depicted by Canaletto and the wilds of the Yorkshire moors, this book will inspire you to discover the treasures of England's sea, city, and landscapes for yourself. Filled with Roman roads, cliff tops, follies, mountains, ancient castles, rolling forests, and heart-stopping moments, you'll soon wonder how you chose walks, mini-breaks, or spontaneous diversions without it. The perfect guide to Britain's landscape, now available in paperback. Current

British Directories, 1993 Local Nature Reserves in England George Barker, English Nature (Agency: Great Britain), 1999-12-01 England's Coastal Heritage Michael Fulford, Timothy Champion, Antony Long, 2013-04-15 England's coastal zone contains an important legacy of historic assets, including a complex array of fragile and irreplaceable archaeological remains. This report documents the recorded coastal archaeological resource and identifies future themes for survey and investigation. British Book News, 1989 Green Scenarios: Mining Industry Responses to Environmental Challenges of the Anthropocene Epoch Artur Dyczko, Andrzej Jagodziński, Gabriela Woźniak, 2022-05-24 This book aims to present an alternative based on natural processes and an environmental approach to post-extraction site management, e.g. post-coal mining heaps. These sites are places where various mineral extraction by-products are collected. Nevertheless, some post-mineral extraction sites are oligotrophic terrestrial wetland and water habitat islands providing unique biodiversity enrichment in the landscape. These oligotrophic mineral habitats are essential in over-fertilized eutrophic agricultural and urban industry surroundings. Some post-mineral extraction sites are places where the wildlife can develop and support the functional processes of novel ecosystems. Implementing the newest biogeochemical and comprehensive knowledge into urban industry landscape management will help to establish the ecosystem's processes and environmental functioning. There are several post-industrial sites in Europe where the wildlife areas developed due to natural processes are becoming wildlife hotspots in densely populated urban industry areas. In this respect, many of the oligotrophic mineral terrestrial wetland and water habitats of anthropogenic origin should not be categorized as environmentally dangerous and undergo economic utility-focused reclamation. Facing the actual environmental constraints of the Anthropocene Epoch, the book's chapters presenting the natural basics and prerequisites of the environmental ecosystem mosaics will be interesting for a broad range of environmentalists, scientists, and students, miners, economists, and sociologists. The Zoological Record
