Newly widowed dad Sebastian Dorner was unraveling at the edges until his son's teacher Via DeRosa threw him a lifeline. Now two years later they reconnect at Matty's new school and an inconvenient but unmistakable jolt of attraction crackles between them. But why does the first person to spark with Sebastian in years have to be a millennial? Is twentysomething Via really too young for him, or does fortysomething Sebastian just feel too damn old? A former foster kid, Via's finally forged the stable life she's always dreamed of: new job, steady income, no drama. The last thing she needs are rumors about her and a single dad at school. But why does she keep being drawn into his capable, worn flannel orbit? And why does being around Sebastian, Matty, and even their dog Crabby seem to spark so much? They're trying to ignore the tension threatening their friendship. But sometimes what'll heal you is just a touch and a heartbeat away. A beautiful, slow-burn romance. The chemistry between Sebastian and Via absolutely stole my heart.

From the New York Times bestselling author, a believable tale of intrigue about domestic terrorism, biological warfare, and lust for power. The Big Thrill. On the night of the State of the Union address, President James Allaire expects to give the speech of his career. But no one anticipates the terrifying turn of events that forces him to quarantine everyone in the Capitol building. A terrorist group calling itself Genesis has unleashed WRX3883, a deadly, highly contagious virus into the building. No one fully knows the deadly effect of the germ, except for the team responsible for its development, a team headed by Allaire himself. The only one who might be able to help is virologist Griffin Rhodes, currently in solitary confinement in a maximum security federal prison for alleged terrorist acts, including the attempted theft of WRX3883 from the lab where he worked. Rhodes has no idea why he has been arrested, but when Allaire offers to free him in exchange for his help combating the virus, he reluctantly agrees to do what he can to support the government that has imprisoned him without apparent cause. Meanwhile, every single person in line for presidential succession is trapped inside the Capitol, every person except one: the Director of Homeland Security, who is safely at home in Minnesota, having been selected as the Designated Survivor for this event. With enemies both named and unnamed closing in, and the security of the nation at stake, Griff must unravel the mysteries of WRX3883 without violating his pledge as a scientist to use no animal testing in his experiments, and time is running out.

Rogan, 1993 Life in Mercy Hospital's emergency room is life not only unmasked but stripped to the bone. Crises are the daily fare of Mercy's staff headed by Dr. Thomas Graystone, a man enormously dedicated yet also rigid and proud, thus far immune to the fevers and messiness of love. Alice Straugh also suffers from a hardening of the heart. Having defied her wealthy parents to become a nurse, she is determined to lead a different life. The arrival at the hospital of an abused child breaks down her defenses, and she discovers her own fierce tenacity, strength, and determination to pursue something of her own. Dr. Elias Glass was head of the ER until his untimely death in a shooting incident. His spirit cannot bring itself to leave the hospital until he has finished the work he has left undone. Crow Durango, a recent widow of a brilliant musician, keeps her scars close and secret while she sweeps the emergency room floors. Unlike the victims she sees daily, her pain is private. Yet there is too much life in Crow for her to continue wanting nothing; she can't afford to lose. One night she is persuaded to go to a jazz club where a virtual stranger recognizes in her not the invisible, anonymous face of one of the overworked poor but the transformed expression of a passionate woman, a woman whose life beyond the hospital walls he might never have guessed at, and now feels compelled to know. Here in Mercy Hospital, among the living and the dead, the crack addicts and the crash victims, love strikes two unlikely people. In this riveting story of love, unforgettable characters are confronted with the boundaries of class and the vagaries of pride and prejudice in the 1990s. In this her fourth novel, Barbara Rogan has established herself as one of the finest writers of fiction.
