African Ark Carol Beckwith,1990 African Zion Edith Bruder,2012-03-15 Over the last hundred years in Africa and the United States through a variety of religious encounters some black African societies adopted or perhaps rediscovered a Judaic religious identity African Zion grows out of a joined interest in these diversified encounters with Judaism their common substrata and divergences their exogenous or endogenous characteristics the entry or re entry of these people into the contemporary world as Jews and the necessity of reshaping the standard accounts of their collective experience In various loci the bonds with Judaism of black Jews were often forged in the harshest circumstances and grew out of experiences of slavery exile colonial subjugation political ethnic conflicts and apartheid For the African peoples who identify as Jews and with other Jews identification with biblical Israel assumes symbolical significance This book presents the way in which the religious identification of African American Jews and African black Jews real ideal or imaginary has been represented conceptualized and reconfigured over the last century or so These essays grow out of a concern to understand Black encounters with Judaism Jews and putative Hebrew Israelite origins and are intended to illuminate their developments in the medley of race ethnicity and religion of the African and African American religious experience They reflect the geographical and historic mosaic of black Judaism permeated as it is with different meanings both contemporary and historical Centennial Encyclopaedia of the African Methodist Episcopal Church Richard Robert Wright,1916

Photography in and out of Africa Kylie Thomas,Louise Green,2018-02-02 This book offers a range of perspectives on photography in Africa bringing research on South African photography into conversation with work from several other places on the continent including Angola the DRC Kenya Mali Morocco Nigeria Ethiopia and Eritrea The collection engages with the history of photography and its role in colonial regulatory regimes with social documentary photography and practices of self representation and with the place of portraits in the production of subjectivities as well as contemporary and experimental photographic practices Through detailed analyses of particular photographs and photographic archives the chapters in this book trace how photographs have been used both to affirm colonial worldviews and to disrupt and critique such forms of power This book was originally published as a special issue of Social Dynamics New African ,1998 African Arts ,2009

AFRICAN ARK CAROL: FISHER BECKWITH (ANGELA.), African Ark Carol Beckwith,Angela Fisher,1990-09-20 The Horn of Africa is one of the last secret regions of the world African Ark is the photographic documentary of a perilous five year journey recording the customs of many peoples whose lands and heritage have since been irretrievably lost to war and famine Starting with the Christian Amharas of Lalibela and Axum the two photographers traverse a perilous arc that takes them to the seacoast of Eritrea Djibouti and Somalia and as far south as Lamu in Kenya and finally to the remote peoples of the southeast of the Horn who still engage in stick fighting scarification and the wearing of lip plates Their travels also take them to the lands of the desert dwelling Afar and Rashaida peoples of the Somali nomads of Ogaden and the Oromo pilgrims of the Bale mountains African Ark is a rich record of an ark that shelters a wide variety of landscapes and human societies
