Summary of Margaret Atwood's Burning Questions Everest Media,2022-04-06T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 I will be giving the Kesterton Lecture at Carleton s School of Journalism and Communication The title of my small talk is Scientific Romancing Its cover story is that it s about science fiction Its subtext is probably What is fiction for or something like that 2 The intersection between science and fiction is a point of interest for me I want to understand why people write and read these types of stories and what they re good for 3 The novel has always claimed to offer a certain kind of truth about human nature and how people really behave under observable social conditions The genres want to entertain us rather than just rub our noses in the daily grind 4 The distinction between fiction and journalism is important when discussing the future While no one can predict the future you can dip into the present and explore the seeds of what might become the future Munsey's Magazine for ... ,1896

Munsey's Magazine ,1896 Book Chat ,1888 Nonsense Novels Stephen Leacock,1911 THE author of this book offers it to the public without apology The reviewers of his previous work of this character have presumed on inductive grounds that he must be a young man from the most westerly part of the Western States to whom many things might be pardoned as due to the exuberant animal spirits of youth They were good enough to express the thought that when the author grew up and became educated there might be hope for his intellect This expectation is of no avail All that education could do in this case has been tried and has failed As a Professor of Political Economy in a great university the author admits that he ought to know better But he will feel amply repaid for his humiliation if there are any to whom this little book may bring some passing amusement in hours of idleness or some brief respite when the sadness of the heart or the sufferings of the body forbid the perusal of worthier things Book News ,1913 Burning Questions Alix Kates Shulman,1979
