Debates with Historians Pieter Geyl,1956 Debates with Historians Pieter Geyl,1955 Debates With Historians Pieter Geyl,1955 Debates with Historians Pieter Geyl,1974 Great Debates in American History: Colonial rights Marion Mills Miller,1913 Great Debates in American History: Colonial rights; the revolution; the Constitution Marion Mills Miller,1913 The Elusive Messiah Raymond Martin,2018-03-05 What might the findings of researchers engaged in the quest for the historical Jesus mean to Christians In posing this question and others The Elusive Messiah opens a window for looking anew at the age old problem of faith vs reason To fully understand the implications of the historical search Raymond Martin suggests we must first examine the inquiries of the individual scholars In the book s first section he provides an insightful overview into the major players who have written on the subject among them E P Sanders John Meier Elizabeth Schussler Fiorenza J D Crossan and Luke Timothy Johnson In his second section Martin discusses various Christian responses to the challenges presented by the historians work Martin goes on to argue philosophically that faith and reason are able to coexist alongside each other and then suggests how this may be the key to Christianity s future Through readily understandable language and examples Martin poses basic questions looks for the answers and explains how these answers correspond to the overall problem His accessible writing synthesizes complex academic arguments in ways that bring them down to earth enabling Christians and other readers to understand what is being claimed and to test these claims for meaningfulness The Maghrib in Question Michel Le Gall,Kenneth Perkins,2010-07-05 A wealth of historical writing dealing with the Maghrib Morocco Algeria Tunisia and Libya has been published during the roughly forty years since European colonial control ended in the region This book provides a state of the field survey of this postcolonial Maghribi historiography The book contains thirteen essays by leading Maghribi and North American scholars The first section surveys the Maghrib as a whole the second focuses on individual countries of the Maghrib and the third explores theoretical issues and case studies Cutting across chronological categories the book encompasses historiographical writing dealing with all eras from the ancient Maghrib to the contemporary period Debating New Approaches to History Marek Tamm,Peter Burke,2018-10-04 With its innovative format Debating New Approaches to History addresses issues currently at the top of the discipline s theoretical and methodological agenda In its chapters leading historians of both older and younger generations from across the Western world and beyond discuss and debate the main problems and challenges that historians are facing today Each chapter is followed by a critical commentary from another key scholar in the field and the author s response The volume looks at topics such as the importance and consequences of the digital turn in history what will history writing be like in a digital age the challenge of posthumanist theory for history writing how do we write the history of non humans and the possibilities of moving beyond traditional sources in history and establishing a dialogue with genetics and neurosciences what are the perspectives and limits of the so called neurohistory It also revisits older debates in history which remain crucial such as what the gender approach can offer to historical research or how to write history on a global scale Debating New Approaches to History does not just provide a useful overview of the new approaches to history it covers but also offers insights into current historical debates and the process of historical method in the making It demonstrates how the discipline of history has responded to challenges in society such as digitalization globalization and environmental concerns as well as in humanities and social sciences such as the material turn visual turn or affective turn This is a key volume for all students of historiography wanting to keep their finger on the pulse of contemporary thinking in historical research

Slavery and Sin Molly Oshatz,2012 In this groundbreaking examination of the antislavery origins of liberal Protestantism Molly Oshatz contends that the antebellum slavery debates forced antislavery Protestants to adopt an historicist understanding of truth and morality Unlike earlier debates over slavery in antebellum America the key question was whether slavery was a sin in the abstract Unable to use the letter of the Bible to answer the claim that slavery was not a sin in and of itself antislavery Protestants argued that biblical principles required opposition to slavery and that God revealed slavery s sinfulness through the gradual unfolding of these principles Although they believed that slavery was a sin antislavery Protestants sympathy for individual slaveholders and their knowledge of the Bible made them reluctant to denounce all slaveholders as sinners In order to reconcile slavery s sinfulness with their commitments to the Bible and to the Union antislavery Protestants defined slavery as a social rather than an individual sin Oshatz demonstrates that the antislavery notions of progressive revelation and social sin had radical implications for Protestant theology Oshatz carries her study through the Civil War to reveal how emancipation confirmed for northern Protestants the notion that God revealed His will through history She reveals how after the war a new generation of liberal theologians drew on this experience to respond to evolution and historical biblical criticism Slavery and Sin provides critical insight into how the theological innovations rooted in the slavery debates came to fruition in liberal Protestantism s acceptance of the historical and evolutionary nature of religious truth Debates that Made History Jesse James Haley,1920

History Under Debate Carlos Barros, Lawrence J. McCrank,2004 Historians from around the world explore new trends movements conceptualizations in history as a discipline profession This volume offers innovative approaches to historians attempting to redefine their discipline relative to the global society of the 21st century

Teaching the Violent Past Elizabeth A. Cole,2007-10-04 During an armed conflict or period of gross human rights violations the first priority is a cessation of violence For the cease fire to be more than a lull in hostilities and atrocities however it must be accompanied by a plan for political transition and social reconstruction Essential to this long term reconciliation process is education reform that teaches future generations information repressed under dictatorial regimes and offers new representations of former enemies In Teaching the Violent Past Cole has gathered nine case studies exploring the use of history education to promote tolerance inclusiveness and critical thinking in nations around the world Online Book Companion is available at http://www.cceia.org/resources_for_educators_and_students/teaching_the_violent_past/index.html

Victory in Europe? Sabine Lee, 2014-07-15 With the debate about Europe constantly in the headlines this examination of the important and tricky post war relationship between Germany and Britain compares their different roles outlook and development In the wake of a devastated continent this relationship has been one of the central axes of the development of post war Europe and crucial in terms of recent British history Sabine Lee considers broad issues such as the comparative senses of national identity destiny and direction and the respective roles of Germany and Britain in Europe and in the world community at large With Germany now reunited and at the head of the new Europe and Britain in the process of devolution and struggling to retain the special relationship with the United States this is an important and topical book
