East Asia Decentralizes ,2005-01-01 This report states that the future of East Asian countries depends on the capacity and performance of local and provincial governments Decentralization has unleashed local initiative and energy with new ways to deliver services to people with potential for continued improvement The report which focuses on six countries notes the differences in the approach to decentralizing government in Cambodia China Indonesia the Philippines Thailand and Vietnam

Handbook of Decentralised Governance and Development in India D. Rajasekhar, 2021-08-23 This handbook examines 25 years of decentralised governance and development in India It provides a historical overview of developments since the introduction of decentralisation reforms 73rd and 74th Constitutional Amendment Acts and critically assesses the measures initiated to strengthen decentralised institutions and deepen grassroots democracy It also discusses the status of service delivery and identifies the issues and challenges involved in achieving development at the local level The volume studies themes such as the devolution of powers in India administrative and fiscal decentralisation decentralised planning Panchayats in scheduled areas the sociological aspects of decentralisation caste gender and local democracy capacity building ICT for local governance urban local governance workfare and decentralisation and decentralised natural resource management It also looks at Panchayati Raj institutions from a Gandhian perspective The first of its kind this handbook will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of decentralisation and development development studies fiscal decentralisation political studies political sociology Indian politics Indian government public policy and governance political economy South Asian studies and South Asian politics

Democracy and Decentralisation in South Asia and West Africa Richard C. Crook, James Manor, 1998-12-03 This book is an in depth empirical study of four Asian and African attempts to create democratic decentralised local governments in the late 1980s and 1990s The case studies of Ghana Cote d Ivoire

Karnataka India and Bangladesh focus upon the enhancement of participation accountability between people politicians and bureaucrats and most importantly on whether governmental performance actually improved in comparison with previous forms of administration The book is systematically comparative and based upon extensive popular surveys and local field work It makes an important contribution to current debates in the development literature on whether good governance and decentralisation can provide more responsive and effective services for the mass of the population the poor and disadvantaged who live in the rural areas

Fiscal Decentralization in Asia Jorge Martinez-Vazquez,2011-04-01 This publication discusses the decentralization issues faced by countries of Asia and the Pacific It includes practical suggestions on how to proceed in this area to achieve economic growth macroeconomic stability poverty and income distribution services delivery improvements and political accountability This note elaborates on adequacy of local revenues and autonomy expenditure management and clear service delivery mandates horizontal imbalances and limited use of incentives in intergovernmental transfers financing needs and local government borrowing and local management capacities as the major challenges in a decentralized fiscal architecture The recommendations to address the above challenges also note the long term nature of these reforms

Decentralization, Local Governance, and Localizing the Sustainable Development Goals in Asia and the Pacific Bruno Carrasco,Hanif A. Rahemtulla,Rainer Rohdewohld,2022-10-12 Since its adoption in 2015 the 2030 Agenda on Sustainable Development has shaped not only international development cooperation but also the design of national trajectories for social and economic development In tandem with other global agendas adopted that year such as the Paris Agreement on Climate Change and UN Habitat s New Urban Agenda it remains the global and regional blueprint for sustainable development despite the COVID 19 pandemic The term localizing the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs has been used to capture the importance of subnational governments for achieving national SDG agendas However there is little deeper analysis of the required nexus between fiscal political and legal arrangements for SNGs their involvement in national policy arenas which discuss and decide on national SDG strategies and the need for locally disaggregated data systems on the one hand and effective SDG localization strategies on the other hand It is this aspect which the present publication explores in greater detail by using country examples and conceptual analyses The text will be of interest to policymakers scholars students and practitioners in public policy and public administration decentralization and sustainable development with a focus on the Asia and Pacific region The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivative License CC BY NC ND 3 0 IGO

Decentralization in Asia and Latin America Paul J. Smoke,Eduardo J. Gomez,George E. Peterson,2006-11-28 Public sector decentralization has emerged prominently in many Asian and Latin American countries as a strategy to promote development and political reform Results in both cases have been mixed Despite broad similarities in intent and outcome contextual differences between the regions have led to striking differences in the way decentralization has been structured and implemented This volume takes an atypically historical and interdisciplinary perspective on decentralization highlighting how fiscal and political forces together have been shaping its evolution in the two regions

Democratic Local Governance G. Shabbir Cheema,2013 Asian countries have introduced major reforms and new institutional mechanisms in recent years to promote the engagement of elected local governments civil society and the private sector This book examines emerging issues in democratic local governance and factors that influenced the impetus for and the substance of reforms It asks the following questions What have been the challenges in designing and implementing decentralization policies and programs What are the constraints on strengthening citizen participation Can reforms promote gender and rights perspectives in local governance What is the role of local government in service delivery and access How effective are the mechanisms for accountability and transparency in local governance What are the driving forces influencing democratic local governance reform The book addresses these questions as it discusses studies from theoretical and comparative perspectives on specific issues as well as myriad cases across Asia often dealing with country specific reforms
