Decoding Advertisements Ideology And Meaning In Advertising Ideas In Progress:

Decoding Advertisements Judith Williamson, 1978 A fascinating account of how the admen achieve their effects Stuart Hood This book sets out not simply to criticize advertisements on the grounds of dishonesty and exploitation but to examine in detail through over a hundred illustrations their undoubted attractiveness and appeal The overt economic function of this appeal is to make us buy things Its ideological function however is to involve us as individuals in perpetuating the ideas which endorse the economic basis of our society If it is economic conditions which make ideology necessary it is ideology which makes those conditions seem necessary If society is to be changed this vicious circle of necessity and ideas must be broken Decoding Advertisements is an attempt to undo one link in the chain which we ourselves help to forge in our acceptance not only of the images and values of advertising but of the transparent forms and structures in which they are embodied It provides not an answer but a set of tools which we can use to alter our own perceptions of one of society's subtlest and most complex forms of propaganda Other books by Judith Williamson published by Marion Boyars are Consuming Passions the Dynamics of Popular Culture and Deadline at Dawn Film Criticism 1980 1990 The Routledge Companion to Marketing and Feminism Pauline Maclaran, Lorna Stevens, Olga Kravets, 2022-02-25 This comprehensive and authoritative sourcebook offers academics researchers and students an introduction to and overview of current scholarship at the intersection of marketing and feminism In the last five years there has been a resurrection of feminist voices in marketing and consumer research This mirrors a wider public interest in feminism particularly in the media as well as the academy with younger women discovering that patriarchal structures and strictures still limit women's development and life opportunities The F word is back on the agenda made high profile by campaigns such as MeToo and TimesUp There is a noticeably renewed interest in feminist scholarship especially amongst younger scholars and significantly insightful interdisciplinary critiques of this new brand of feminism including the identification of a neoliberal feminism that urges professional women to achieve a work family balance on the back of other women's exploitation Consolidating existing scholarship while exploring emerging theories and ideas which will generate further feminist research this volume will be of interest to researchers academics and students in marketing and consumption studies especially those studying or researching the complex inter relationship of feminism and marketing Marketing and Christian Proclamation in Theological Perspective Emily Beth Hill, 2021-06-28 In today's market driven world the contemporary church faces pressing questions as it continues to be formed by the powerful forces of neoliberal capitalism This book builds on theological examinations of capitalism and consumerism to develop a theology of marketing that addresses two key questions First even though church marketing seems to help churches grow amidst a climate of declining church affiliation should the church use it Second considering the church's indistinguishability from culture in relation to consumption how should Christians relate to material goods To address these questions Emily Beth Hill develops a framework that draws on the concrete practices of marketing such as focus groups big data branding and advertising and the trajectory of their use over time along with Martin Luther's theology of the Word Combining Martin Luther's pro me for me theology with marketing concepts Hill shows that while marketing and the gospel have formal pro me similarities materially they are quite different marketing operates as a word of law distinct from the effective liberating word of the gospel proclaimed for us and thus the two produce different human identities While existing examinations of capitalism primarily rely on theologies and discourses of desire Hill reveals that a theology of the Word illuminates a fruitful new area for reflection on how the church can resist the deformations of capitalism

The Evolution of Integrated Marketing Communications Don Schultz, Charles Patti, Philip Kitchen, 2013-12-16 This book reviews updates and enhances the basic concepts surrounding the academic theory and practice of Integrated Marketing Communication IMC Since the introduction of IMC in the late 1980s the concept has spread around the world In that expansion many authors have written about IMC practitioners have adopted and adapted the concept to fit their own market situations Further dramatic changes have occurred in the technologies used in marketing communications which consumers have accepted and employed in their consumption of marketers messages and incentives Thus there have been dramatic changes in how IMC was initially envisioned and how it has developed over time This book identifies and discusses these changes how they have occurred and what they mean going forward for all types of marketers around the world Thus IMC and indeed integration of communications at all organisational levels is an essential in the 21st century organisations This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Communications

Gender-Based Violence and the Law Agnė Limantė, Artūras Tereškinas, Rūta Vaičiūnienė, 2023-12-06 This book presents a novel and insightful examination of gender based violence inviting readers to consider this topic from various perspectives It encompasses various conceptual discussions and international regulations and trends while concurrently emphasising the legal regulations and practices of select Central and Eastern European countries Significantly underrepresented in legal scholarship this region has been overlooked and subject to limited comprehensive analyses The authors address different aspects of gender based violence also covering some areas that have received little attention in academic literature such as gender based violence in academia and cyberstalking Furthermore the book incorporates recent empirical studies thereby endowing readers with valuable insights into the specific challenges encountered in the region By contributing to current research on gender based violence in Europe this publication is an invaluable resource for researchers students policymakers and general readers interested in gender based violence and the fight against it in the Central and Eastern European region

Democracy, Participation and Contestation Emmanuelle Avril, Johann Neem, 2014-08-07 The establishment of democracy on both sides of the Atlantic has not been a smooth evolution towards an idealized presumed endpoint Far from it democratization has been marked by setbacks and victories a process often referred to as contested democracy In view of recent mobilizations such as the Arab Spring and the Occupy movement in which new technologies have played a key role there is a need for a renewed analysis of the long term evolution of US and UK political systems Using new areas of research this book argues that the ideals and the practices of Anglo American democracy can be best understood by studying diverse forms of participation which go beyond classical expressions of contestation and dissent such as voting The authors analyze political parties social movements communications and social media governance cultural diversity identity politics public private actors and social cohesion to illustrate how the structure and context of popular participation play a significant role in whether and when citizens efforts have any meaningful impact on those who exercise political power In doing so the authors take crucial steps towards understanding how a vigorous public sphere and popular sovereignty can be made to work in today s global environment This book will be of interest to students and scholars of political science British and US history democracy political participation governance social movements and politics

Face Value Donna M. De Salvo, Maurice Berger, 1995 What is a portrait today is the defining question of this volume Essays by such leading scholars and critics as Maurice Berger Kenneth E Silver Max Kozloff and Michele Wallace propose fascinating answers framing portraiture through its age old kinship with status and wealth its employ in fashion politics and advertising and its current association with issues of identity The catalogue also explores the seemingly quixotic rebirth of studied portraiture in an age of instant image making the philosophical difficulties inherent in capturing individual essence and why portraits of individuals have such cachet in mass audience advertising
