Propp, 2021-01-31 Steve Propp most often writes novels with serious intellectual themes But this nonfiction book contains writings and essays dealing with a wide variety of topics in the areas of science religion philosophy and politics The first section includes expansions of topics that were briefly covered in his earlier nonfiction book Inquiries Philosophical 2002 Subjects include Science and the Multiverse Time Travel Extraterrestrial Life Artificial Intelligence Life after Death and more The second section consists of twelve Lay Sermons such as could be addressed to a religious congregation on topics such as the Image of God the Problem of Suffering Social Justice Forgiveness hurtful divisions based on gender sexual orientation etc Negative images in the mass media and others The third section contains thirty brief topical essays such as Family Education Loneliness Freedom Authority Justice Progress Individuality Civility Technology Emotions and even Holidays The final section has several previously unpublished writings Earls Colne's Early Modern Landscapes Dolly MacKinnon, 2016-04-29 The Essex village of Earls Colne boasts one of the most comprehensive collections of historical documents in Britain and has been the subject of an intensive and ongoing research project to collate and computerise the surviving records As such Earls Colne is undoubtedly one of the most studied parishes in England Yet whilst much is now known about the village and its inhabitants little work has been done on the social relationships that bound the community together within its mental and physical landscape As such scholars will welcome Dr MacKinnon's investigation into the social political and cultural world of early modern England as represented by Earls Colne The book provides a fresh approach to the study of the landscape of a seventeenth century village by focussing on the relationships between political power and cultural artefacts It examines how private public and communal spaces within society were generated gendered and governed and how this was recorded and perpetuated in the records names and monuments of the parish and surrounding landscape Yet whilst the elites tried to represent a select social landscape through their control of the local records and documents these attempts were always counterbalanced by the less powerful members of the community who occupied and contested these spaces By reconstructing the dynamics of Earls Colne through a careful reading and cross referencing of the surviving documents buildings and place names this book offers a fascinating insight into how the sights and sounds of early modern society were imbued with the social relations of parish politics As well as deepening our understanding of Earls Colne itself the book offers historians the potential to revisit other local studies from a fresh perspective The Diabetes Self-Management Handbook Dr Netra Khadka,2024-03-29 A silent killer is diabetes unknown to many of us who live with it Therefore we do not take this disease seriously Only when diabetes complications persist we become concerned and worried Often in times of panic we turn to glamorous products and services that promise quick fixes Many times even after investing a lot of money and time no results are achieved The truth is that if we want to help ourselves we can certainly do so without anyone's assurances or false promises in managing diabetes Based on this premise the author in this book uses his academic and research background the latest information and his real life experience to provide knowledge and understanding that will help us effectively manage diabetes We may find managing diabetes on our own to be a daunting task but the author gives us useful tips we may not have heard before that can help transform our lives into a happier healthier and more fulfilling one We can also benefit from this book if we have not yet fallen into the diabetes trap but are at risk for it due to our overweight The Blood of Kings Linda Schele,Mary Ellen Miller,1986 Donated Journey Into Eternity Grant R.
