The Child and the World Jana Tabak,2020-02-15 However unthinkable child soldiers may be within a generalized conception of childhood they are not imaginary figures rather they are a constant in almost every armed conflict around the world The participation of children in wars may question the idea of childhood as a once upon a time story with a happy and predictable ending disrupting the natural idea of a protected and innocent childhood and also eliciting fear uncertainty revulsion horror and sorrow Using the perspectives of both childhood studies and critical approaches to international relations Jana Tabak explores the constructions of child soldiers as children at risk and at the same time risky children More specifically The Child and the World aims both to problematize the boundaries that articulate child soldiers as necessarily deviant and pathological in relation to normal children and to show how these specific limits participate in the production and promotion of a particular version of the international political order In this sense the focus of this work is not on investigating child soldiers lives and experiences per se but on their presumed threatening feature as they depart from the protected territory of childhood disquieting everyday international life
