A Moving Target:

The Moving Target Ross Macdonald, 1954 Optimal Whereabouts Search for a Moving Target STANFORD UNIV CALIF DEPT OF STATISTICS, L. D. Stone, J. B. Kadane, 1979 This paper shows that solving the optimal whereabouts search problem for a moving target is equivalent to solving a finite number of optimal detection problems for moving targets This generalizes the result of Kadane 5 for stationary targets Author A Moving Target David Starr, 2003-02 A Moving Target carefully maneuvers the reader through a web of suspense technology and a touch of science fiction Through twists and surprises book lovers will be gripped until the end when the protagonist uses the enemy's devices for revenge The Moving Target William Stanley Merwin, 1973 A Moving Target William Golding, 1982 Optimal Search for Moving Targets Lawrence D. Stone, Johannes O. Royset, Alan R. Washburn, 2016-04-06 This book begins with a review of basic results in optimal search for a stationary target It then develops the theory of optimal search for a moving target providing algorithms for computing optimal plans and examples of their use Next it develops methods for computing optimal search plans involving multiple targets and multiple searchers with realistic operational constraints on search movement These results assume that the target does not react to the search In the final chapter there is a brief overview of mostly military problems where the target tries to avoid being found as well as rescue or rendezvous problems where the target and the searcher cooperate Larry Stone wrote his definitive book Theory of Optimal Search in 1975 dealing almost exclusively with the stationary target search problem Since then the theory has advanced to encompass search for targets that move even as the search proceeds and computers have developed sufficient capability to employ the improved theory In this book Stone joins Royset and Washburn to document and explain this expanded theory of search The problem of how to search for moving targets arises every day in military rescue law enforcement and border patrol operations A Moving Target is Hard to Hit Lew Welch, 1967 DDC Retrieval and Indexing Terminology Defense Documentation Center (U.S.), 1975 Probabilistic Search for Tracking Targets Irad Ben-Gal, Eugene Kagan, 2013-03-25 Presents a probabilistic and information theoretic framework for a search for static or moving targets in discrete time and space Probabilistic Search for Tracking Targets uses an information theoretic scheme to present a unified approach for known search methods to allow the development of new algorithms of search The book addresses search methods under different constraints and assumptions such as search uncertainty under incomplete information probabilistic search scheme observation errors group testing search games distribution of search efforts single and multiple targets and search agents as well as online or offline search schemes The proposed approach is associated with path planning techniques optimal search algorithms Markov decision models decision trees stochastic local search artificial intelligence and heuristic information seeking methods Furthermore this book presents novel methods of search for static and moving targets along with practical algorithms of partitioning and search and screening Probabilistic Search for Tracking Targets includes complete material for undergraduate and graduate courses in modern applications of probabilistic search decision making and group testing and provides several directions for further research in the search theory The authors Provide a generalized information theoretic approach to the problem of real time search for both static and moving targets over a discrete space Present a theoretical framework which covers known information theoretic algorithms of search and forms a basis for development and analysis of different algorithms of search over probabilistic space Use numerous examples of group testing search and path planning algorithms to illustrate direct implementation in the form of running routines Consider a relation of the suggested approach with known search theories and methods such as search and screening theory search games Markov decision process models of search data mining methods coding theory and decision trees Discuss relevant search applications such as quality control search for nonconforming units in a batch or a military search for a hidden target Provide an accompanying website featuring the algorithms discussed throughout the book along with practical implementations procedures

The Moving Target Ross Macdonald, 1970 The Sampson family made their money in the Texas oil fields and spent it on the California coast There was plenty of it left when Ralph Sampson disappeared Mrs Sampson a paralytic blonde who had bad dreams called Archer in to find him and his checkbook The trail that Archer followed took him down through the seven circles of California society Sampson had mixed with thieves and murderers a cult of phony sun worshippers a silent movie star in the last stages of degradation a boogie pianist who had served her time In company like that you look for trouble and Archer found plenty of trouble

Awareness shaping or shaped by prediction and postdiction Yuki Yamada, Takahiro Kawabe, 2015-06-08 We intuitively believe that we are aware of the external world as it is Unfortunately this is not entirely true In fact the capacity of our sensory system is too small to veridically perceive the world To overcome this problem the sensory system has to spatiotemporally integrate neural signals in order to interpret the external world However the spatiotemporal integration involves severe neural latencies How does the sensory system keep up with the ever changing external world As later discussed prediction and postdiction are essential keywords here For example the sensory system uses temporally preceding events to predict subsequent events e g Nijhawan 1994 Kerzel 2003 Hubbard 2005 even when the preceding event is subliminally presented Schmidt 2000 Moreover internal prediction modulates the perception of action outcomes Bays et al 2005 Cardoso Leite et al 2010 and sense of agency Wenke et al 2010 Prediction is also an indispensable factor for movement planning and control Kawato 1999 On the other hand the sensory system also makes use of subsequent events to postdictively interpret a preceding event e.g. Eagleman Enns 2002 Khoo et al 2010 Kawabe 2011 2012 Miyazaki et al 2010 Ono Lau et al 2007 How prediction and postdiction shape awareness of the external world is an intriguing question Prediction is involved with the encoding of incoming signals whereas postdiction is related to a re-interpretation of already encoded signals Given this perspective prediction and postdiction may exist along a processing stream for a single external event However it is unclear whether and if so how prediction and postdiction interact with each other to shape awareness of the external world Awareness of the external world may also shape prediction and or postdiction It is plausible that awareness of the external world drives the prediction and postdiction of future and past appearances of the world However the literature provides little information about the role of awareness of the external world in prediction and postdiction This background propelled us to propose this research topic with the aim of offering a space for systematic discussion concerning the relationship between awareness prediction and postdiction among researchers in broad research areas such as psychology psychophysics neuroscience cognitive science philosophy and so forth We encouraged papers that address one or more of the following questions 1 How does prediction shape awareness of the external world 2 How does postdiction shape awareness of the external world 3 How do prediction and postdiction interact with each other in shaping awareness of the external world 4 How does awareness of the external world shape prediction postdiction
