Critical Planning and Design Camilla Perrone,2022-07-23 The book interprets and recombines within a subjective trajectory some roots pathways and conceptual frames of the planning thought that worked either as dissenting imaginations or generative source to critically question the modernist epistemologies Critical planning and design is presented in this book as a field of research inspired by critical urban theory and developed along with ideas and theories that prove to be radical alternative dialectical to the mainstream history of planning In this book scholars present what they consider as the most important books in the field of planning public policy and design They have been asked to write about a book and its author in their preferred manner This freedom allowed passionate and original contributions Three main threads

the three parts of the book shape the choices of the authors The first concerns the reconstruction of some genealogical roots of planning including Cerd Yona Friedman Alberto Magnaghi and Ian McHarg The second thread groups the authors who dialogue with contemporary protagonists of the planning debate including John Friedmann Leonie Sandercock Doreen Massey David Harvey Tom Sievert and Patzy Healey The third thread includes authors who dig into relevant writings in social and philosophical sciences including Max Weber Charles Lindblom Henri Lefebvre Gilles Deleuze Félix Guattari Georges Didi Huberman Robert Nozick Pand hilip K Dick The book is addressed to researchers of planning and urban studies who value the critical re reading of some fundamental books Including thoughtful and critical arguments on influential thinkers of the past two centuries the book will enable students scholars and researchers of planning design political science geographical environmental and urban studies to better understand the socio spatial and ecological transformations under the contemporary transition while relying on a usable past The book is also addressed to a wider audience of readers interested in the problems of the city and space

Community Green David Nichols, Robert Freestone, 2024-02-06

Neighbourhood open space ranks highly as a key component in suburban liveability assessments originating from the development of urban planning as a profession and the proliferation of the garden suburb Community Green uniquely connects the past present and future of planning for small open spaces around the narrative of internal reserves The distinctive planned spaces are typically enclosed on every side hidden within residential blocks serving as local pocket parks and reflecting the evolving values of community life from the garden city movement to contemporary new urbanism This book resuscitates the enclosed almost secretive reserve from history as a distinctive form of local open space whose problems and potentialities are relevant to many other green community spaces In so doing it opens up even wider connections between localism and globalism the past and the future and for connecting community initiatives to broader global challenges of cohesion health food and climate change This fully illustrated book charts the outcomes and implications of this evolution across several continents injecting human stories of civic initiatives struggles and triumphs along the way Community Green will be of interest to a wide readership interested in studying managing and improving the quality of all small open spaces in the urban landscape
