A Night In Brooklyn:

A Night in Brooklyn D. Nurkse, 2012-07-10 D Nurkse's deeply satisfying new collection is a haunted love letter to the far corners of his hometown Brooklyn New York and a meditation on the selves that were left behind in those indelible places Here Nurkse brings alive the particular details that shape a life in this case unique to the world of Brooklyn a job at the Arnold Grill topping off drafts with a paddle for the truckers who came in the deaf white alley cat that mysteriously survived the winter on a stoop in Bensonhurst the narrow bed where young love took place the wild gardens behind the tenements His exploration of this almost mythic city past is combined with a sense of the future speeding toward us the ongoing riddle of time and being in a larger universe And she who was driving said We know the coming disaster intimately but the present is unknowable Which disaster I wondered sexual or geological But I was shy her beauty was like a language she didn't speak and had never heard From The Present Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce Bulletin, 1924 Port Series, 1926 web state newton s third law of motion identify the action and reaction forces in different situations apply newton s third law to define systems and solve problems of motion we have thus far considered force as a push or a pull however if you think about it you realize that no push or pull ever occurs by itself
