Evaluating Transition to School Programs Sue Dockett, Bob Perry, 2021-10-21 Transition to school represents a time of great change for all involved Many transition to school programs have been developed to support positive transitions to school While these programs have involved complex planning and implementation often they have not been evaluated in rigorous or systematic ways This book brings together Australian and international perspectives on research and practice to explore approaches to evaluating transition to school programs For children school is quite different from anything else they have experienced For families and educators there are considerable changes as they interact with new people and take on new roles Developing effective transition to school programs is a key policy initiative around the world based on recognition of the importance of a positive start to school and the impact of this for future school engagement and outcomes Throughout the chapters of this book authors from Australia Germany Sweden Ireland and Jamaica share examples of evaluation practice with the aim of encouraging educators to reflect on their own contexts and adopt evaluation practices that are relevant and appropriate for them The book brings together the fields of evaluation research and transition to school A wide range of examples and figures is used to relate research and practice and to illustrate possible applications of evaluation strategies Evaluating Transition to School Programs highlights the importance of multiple perspectives of the transition to school and offers suggestions about how the perspectives of children families educators and community members might be included and analysed in evaluation strategies Other themes throughout the book include the importance of collaboration respectful and trusting relationships practitioner driven inquiry strengths based approaches and developing programs that are responsive to context This book is written for educators and leaders in early years and primary school settings and will also be of interest to researchers students and policy makers in the field Kindergarten Transition and Readiness Andrew J.

Mashburn, Jennifer LoCasale-Crouch, Katherine C. Pears, 2018-06-09 This book presents a comprehensive overview of children s transitions to kindergarten as well as proven strategies that promote their readiness It presents theories and research to help understand children s development during the early childhood years It describes evidence based interventions that support children in developmental areas essential to school success including cognitive social emotional and self regulatory skills Chapters review prekindergarten readiness programs designed to promote continuity of learning in anticipation of the higher grades and discuss transitional concerns of special populations such as non native speakers children with visual and other disabilities and children with common temperamental issues The volume concludes with examples of larger scale systemic approaches to supporting children s development during the transition to kindergarten describing a coherent system of early childhood education that promotes long term development Featured topics include Consistency in children s classroom experiences and implications for early childhood development Changes in school readiness in U S kindergarteners

Effective transitions to kindergarten for low income children The transition into kindergarten for English language learners The role of close teacher child relationships during the transition into kindergarten Children s temperament and its effect on their kindergarten transitions Kindergarten Transition and Readiness is a must have resource for researchers clinicians and related professionals and graduate students in child and school psychology educational psychology social work special education and early childhood education

Progress, Change and Development in Early Childhood Education and Care Elizabeth Coates,Dorothy Faulkner,2017-10-02 In 2000 the Millennium Development Goals set out targets aimed at creating a safer more prosperous and more equitable world If these goals were to be achieved children s lives would indeed be transformed In this collection achievements against these targets are identified with each contributor examining the progress made in early years provision in Australia China England Greece the Netherlands Portugal South Africa and Sweden They highlight the priorities and agendas of their respective governments and focus on the trends and issues which are particularly relevant to each situation thereby revealing the social and educational inequalities that persist across countries A common theme running through this volume concerns the political tensions that arise when governments and educators hold fundamentally different views about the nature and purpose of early years education and the needs of children and families It is clear that although the past two decades have seen many changes in attitude towards the importance of the early years of life politically economically and environmentally much still remains to be done if the Millennium Development Goals for young children and their families are to be fully met Despite this this volume demonstrates that those who work in this area continue to experience a deep concern for the well being of young children which transcends cultures frontiers and political and sectarian divides This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Early Years Education
