Discovering God Rodney Stark, 2007-10-02 Discovering God is a monumental history of the origins of the great religions from the Stone Age to the Modern Age Sociologist Rodney Stark surveys the birth and growth of religions around the world from the prehistoric era of primal beliefs the history of the pyramids found in Iraq Egypt Mexico and Cambodia and the great Axial Age of Plato Zoroaster Confucius and the Buddha to the modern Christian missions and the global spread of Islam He argues for a free market theory of religion and for the controversial thesis that under the best unimpeded conditions the true most authentic religions will survive and thrive Among his many conclusions Despite decades of faulty reports that early religions were crude muddles of superstition it turns out that primitive humans had surprisingly sophisticated notions about God and Creation The idea of sin appeared suddenly in the sixth century BCE and quickly reshaped religious ideas from Europe to China Some major world religions seem to lack any plausible traces of divine inspiration Ironically some famous figures who attempted to found Godless religions ended up being worshiped as Gods Most people believe in the existence of God or Gods and this has apparently been so throughout human history Many modern biologists and psychologists reject these spiritual ideas especially those about the existence of God as delusional They claim that religion is a primitive survival mechanism that should have been discarded as humans evolved beyond the stage where belief in God served any useful purpose that in modern societies faith is a misleading crutch and an impediment to reason In Discovering God award winning sociologist Rodney Stark responds to this position arguing that it is our capacity to understand God that has evolved that humans now know much more about God than they did in ancient times Self-Discovery and Identity Chris

Christian, 2022-01-11 This book has both revelation and expository knowledge of how a man can discover himself The book is like a loaded gun which points at darkness so as to bring people to light It spent its virtues on revealing the principles of self discovery and identity The revelation is so desperate in alleviating the pains and ordinariness of men by telling them who they are When a man discovers himself he becomes a supernatural man The clothing of men with the jacket of revelation and accomplishment of great exploit is an opportunity that is reserved for men who have discovered themselves It is only men who have discovered themselves that can take their place in God The Discovery of God Basil King,1923 Finding God
