TESTING In exploratory data analysis or in a preliminary phase of inference an approach based on model selection criteria can offer advantages over tests of hypotheses The model selection approach avoids the problem of specifying error rates for the tests With model selection the focus can be on simultaneous competition between a broad class of competing models rather than on consideration of a sequence of simpler and simpler models Interpreting Standard and Nonstandard Log-Linear Models Patrick Mair, Log linear models can be used to analyze the relationships among categorical variables The nature of these relationships is described based on the interpretation This framework includes the usual standard models but also nonstandard and non hierarchical models Alexander von Eye Michigan State University

The Social Implications of Cellular Agriculture and the Future of Food Evan Bowness, Evan Fraser, Robert Newell, Lenore Lauri Newman, Rodrigo Luiz Morais-da-Silva, Alesandros Glaros, Sarah-Louise Ruder, Mariana Hase Ueta, Jessica Mukiri, 2025-04-24 Cellular agriculture refers to a suite of technologies for using cell cultures and advanced fermentation instead of live animals e.g. livestock poultry fisheries to produce food for human consumption Cellular agriculture is positioned to drive significant changes across the food system While there is much and growing interest in this area of research a focused and in depth critical examination of the social implications surrounding this emerging technology remains underdeveloped Social science research that assesses the degree to which these technologies both alleviate and reproduce existing social and ecological problems is therefore needed This Research Topic will feature research that responds to this need We seek empirical theoretical and analytical papers that address the social political ethical and cultural implications of cellular agriculture Ideally these papers will examine the prospects of cellular agriculture as a vehicle for but also a potential hindrance to social and ecological sustainability and justice We welcome disciplinary interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary submissions of conceptual and empirical research articles reviews and commentaries from within and beyond geography sociology economics urban studies philosophy political economy and political science We also seek work resulting from transdisciplinary collaborations that extend beyond the academy

Analysis of Categorical Data with R Christopher R. Bilder, Thomas M. Loughin, 2024-07-31 Analysis of Categorical Data with R Second Edition presents a modern account of categorical data analysis using the R software environment It covers recent techniques of model building and assessment for binary multicategory and count response variables and discusses fundamentals such as odds ratio and probability estimation The authors give detailed advice and guidelines on which procedures to use and why to use them The second edition is a substantial update of the first based on the authors experiences of teaching from the book for nearly a decade The book is organized as before but with new content throughout and there are two new substantive topics in the advanced topics chapter group testing and splines The computing has been completely updated with the emmeans package now integrated into the book The examples have also been updated notably to include new examples based on COVID 19 and there are more than 90 new exercises in the book The solutions manual and teaching videos have also been updated Features Requires no prior experience with R and offers an introduction to the essential features and functions of R Includes numerous examples from medicine psychology sports ecology and many other areas Integrates extensive R code and output Graphically demonstrates many of the features and properties of various analysis methods Offers a substantial number of exercises in all chapters enabling use as a course text or for self study Supplemented by a website with data sets code and teaching videos Analysis of Categorical Data with R Second Edition is primarily designed for a course on categorical data analysis taught at the advanced undergraduate or graduate level Such a course could be taught in a statistics or biostatistics department or within mathematics psychology social science ecology or another quantitative discipline It could also be used by a self learner and would make an ideal reference for a researcher from any discipline where categorical data arise
