Music Festivals and Regional Development in Australia Chris Gibson, John Connell, 2016-04-29 Throughout the world the number of festivals has grown exponentially in the last two decades as people celebrate local and regional cultures but perhaps more importantly as local councils and other groups seek to use festivals both to promote tourism and to stimulate rural development However most studies of festivals have tended to focus almost exclusively on the cultural and symbolic aspects or on narrow modelling of economic multiplier impacts rather than examining their long term implications for rural change This book therefore has an original focus It is structured in two parts the first discusses broad issues affecting music festivals globally especially in the context of rural revitalisation The second part looks in more detail at a range of types of festivals commonly found throughout North America Europe and Australasia such as country music jazz opera and alternative music festivals The authors draw on in depth research undertaken over the past five years in a range of Australian places which traces the overall growth of festivals of various kinds examines four of the more important and distinctive music festivals and makes clear conclusions on their significance for rural and regional change Australia: the Making of a Nation John Foster Fraser, 1910 Proceedings of the Parliament of South Australia South Australia. AUSTRALIA-INDONESIA CONNECTION Jemma Purdey , 2021-12-12 In early 2020 Australia and Indonesia entered an historic high point in their bilateral relationship The President of Indonesia Joko Widodo visited Canberra where he addressed the Joint Houses of Parliament and meetings were held to put the final touches on the Indonesia Australia Comprehensive Partnership Agreement IA CEPA Since then tested by the COVID 19 pandemic crisis the strength and depth of the Australia Indonesia relationship between governments also business and community organisations and individuals has come more clearly into focus The people to people connectivity that has driven the Australia Indonesia relationship is being re imagined in creative digital ways and in the face of a global economic crisis IA CEPA is a bright spot for potential growth in trade and exchange In response to these trends and opportunities for deepening engagement the chapters in this volume represent research undertaken by Indonesians and Australians working together as part of a collaborative research program initiated by the Australia Indonesia Centre with a focus on thematic areas Youth and Education and Business and Tourism Digital Futures and Connectivity Collectively the research offers insights into what is driving Indonesia's future with a focus on its young people those aged 17 35 years are the largest single demographic group in Indonesia digital technologies and an increasingly mobile middle class What is shaping the outlook of young Indonesians on the world and their relations with their regional neighbours including Australia How are Indonesians using digital technologies for social and commercial exchange in ways that are making them increasingly open to international connections What kinds of experiences are Indonesia's increasingly mobile middle classes looking for when they travel overseas for education or leisure What does this mean in terms of opportunities for greater connectivity and exchange within the Australia Indonesia relationship after the crisis has
