Bakunin Eine Invention:

Bakunin, an Invention Horst Bienek, 1977 Mikhail Bakunin Paul McLaughlin, 2002 McLaughlin is concerned not so much with an explication of Bakunin's anarchist position as such as with the basic philosophy which underpins it. He focuses on two central components: a negative dialectic or revolutionary logic and a naturalist ontology, a naturalistic account of the structure of being or reality. Bakunin scholarship, he notes, falls into two camps: Marxist and liberal. Both, he says, tend to be hostile. McLaughlin discredits one by one the analyses published usually as part of a work on Marx et al. by Francis Wheen: schoolboy wit, idiocy of tone, poverty of content. George Lichtheim completely misreads Bakunin, and Oxbridge scholar Aileen Kelly's personality assassination is perverse and slanderous while upholding Eric Voegelin. Perhaps this book will spark a small revolution of its own. Scholars interested in Bakunin have had few resources available in English and none of them until now presented a credible study of the man's philosophy. Biographie Als Religiöser und Kultureller Text Anthony J.

Cascardi, Dietrich Ritschl, Roxane Witke, 2002 A Companion to Twentieth-Century German Literature Raymond Furness, Malcolm Humble, 2003-09-02. Containing entries on over four hundred authors of fiction, poetry, and drama from Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, this invaluable work of reference presents material of a range and depth that no other book on the subject in English attains. For the second edition, the entries have been updated to include the most recent works of German literature. A number of new entries have been added, dealing in particular with the East German literary scene and the changing literary landscape after reunification. In addition to basic biographical facts, the Companion offers summaries, information on involvement in literary groups and political developments, schools and movements, critical terms, and aspects of the other arts, including film. Writing with the Words of Others Alan J. Clayton, 2010. Hans Magnus Enzensberger is one of the most widely read and respected writers in post-war Germany. In the present study, a considerable number of his most important poems are closely analyzed, including the texts that make up his major poetic cycles: Mausoleum (1975) and Der Untergang der Titanic (1978). Central to any discussion of this highly diverse corpus is the way in which Enzensberger creates strikingly original poems on the basis of borrowed material. Der Untergang der Titanic, for example, is closely based on the famous bestseller A Night to Remember (1955) by the American writer Walter Lord and on the film of the same name by Roy Baker (1958). Enzensberger's Versepos is simply unimaginable without Lord's book and certain episodes represented in the poem can be fully understood only by readers who have seen the film. The appropriation of documentary material also plays an important role in the series of poems devoted to nature or science, many of which present themselves as riddles. An entire chapter is devoted to the analysis of these fascinating riddle poems. The various personages portrayed in Mausoleum comprise not only scientists, inventors, explorers, and thinkers who were responsible for truly world-changing discoveries: Gutenberg, Humboldt, and Darwin, for example, but also a whole series of historical figures whose admission to this oddball pantheon is best explained by the bizarreness of their often utopian projects or by their compulsive or megalomaniacal personalities The playful and provocative Enzensberger clearly chose several of these latter for their shock value Raimondo di Sangro V M Molotov Ernesto Guevara de la Serna Our reading of this collection demonstrates Enzensberger s willingness to undermine seriousness with irony and humor hence the presence of Dante and Marilyn Monroe on board the sinking Titanic The final chapter examines the relation between poetry and politics and examines the notorious essay Gemeinpl tze die Neueste Literatur betreffend 1968 as well as the disturbing interview with the Weimarer Beitr ge 1971 in which the poet expresses his thankfully short lived rejection of literature as art and his desire to break out of the Ghetto des Kulturlebens This chapter also discusses the influence of Bertolt Brecht Other chapters focus on the poet s taste for anachronism his asynchronous sensibility and the recurrent theme of disappearance Heimat, Space, Narrative Friederike Ursula Eigler, 2014 Explores how contemporary novels dealing with flight and expulsion after the Second World War unsettle traditional notions of Heimat without abandoning place based notions of belonging At the end of the Second World War millions of Germans and Poles fled or were expelled from the border regions of what had been their countries This monograph examines how in Cold War and post Cold War Europe since the 1970s writers have responded to memories or postmemories of this traumatic displacement Friederike Eigler engages with important currents in scholarship on Heimat the much debated German concept of homeland on the spatial turn in literary studies and on German Polish relations arguing for a transnational approach to the legacies of flight and expulsion and for a spatial approach to Heimat She explores notions of belonging in selected postwar and contemporary German novels with a comparative look at a Polish novel Olga Tokarczuk s House of Day House of Night 1998 Eigler finds dynamic manifestations of place in Tokarczuk s novel in Horst Bienek s 1972 82 Gleiwitz tetralogy about the historical border region of Upper Silesia and in contemporary novels by Reinhard Jirgl Christoph Hein Kathrin Schmidt Tanja D ckers Olaf M ller and Sabrina Janesch In a decisive departure from earlier approaches Eigler explores how these novels foster an awareness of the regions multiethnic and multinational histories unsettling traditional notions of Heimat without altogether abandoning place based notions of belonging Friederike Eigler is Professor of German at Georgetown University Contemporary Authors of the German-speaking Countries of Europe Margrit Beran Krewson, 1988 The Babel Guide to German Fiction in English Translation Ray Keenoy, Mike Mitchell (Translator), Maren Meinhardt, 1997 The Babel Guide is a new way in to the excitement of world fiction with lively original reviews and excerpts of the best books by the writers of Austria Germany and Switzerland It includes full listings of all translations published since 1950 A unique introduction to the wealth of fiction in translation Babel Guides is a new series on contemporary world fiction in English The Reviews introduce the best most representative books with a quotation as a taster The Database gives useful details on fiction The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library, Jim Emmett, 1979 Bakunin, eine Invention Horst Bienek, 1970 Anarchism Robert Goehlert, Claire Herczeg, 1982 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1977 The Oxford Companion to German Literature Henry

Burnand Garland, Mary Garland, 1986 Offers in alphabetical sequence a series of concise biographies critical surveys of writers and synopses of literary works Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1976 Dimension , 1983

Contemporary German Fiction Writers Wolfgang Elfe, James N. Hardin, 1988 Contains alphabetically arranged essays that provide biographical and critical information about significant contemporary German fiction writers each with a list of principal works and a bibliography The National Union Catalogs, 1963- , 1964 A Checklist of German Literature, 1945-1975 , 1977 Beyond Liberalism, where Relations Grow Henry S. Kariel, 1977 This text provides an engaging discussion on the nature of our Liberal identity how our liberalism has failed us and how our inherited liberalism continues to search for a place in the modern world Public Administration Series--Bibliography , 1982-02
