Virtual Theology, Faith and Adult Education Ros Stuart-Buttle, 2013-07-29 Online learning is a key feature of the contemporary educational landscape and has entered mainstream policy provision and practice But if online education is to reach mature development and evaluation it must be open to critical appraisal This book considers the implementation of online learning within adult theological education This can be an area of challenge or contention especially when established academic practices and cherished values are seen as threatened when handed over to online delivery This opens questions about theology pedagogy and online education Does online teaching and learning bring or demand a new or transformed disruptive pedagogy or does it result in maintenance or replication sustaining of traditional values and existing practices What might the opportunities and benefits be Who stands to gain Who stands to lose And what evidence is there to evaluate the quality of doing theology online This book examines a long standing programme of continuing professional development delivered fully online to adult practitioners working across Christian education and ministry settings It builds upon the author s international experience as an online educator for over a decade Key themes relate adult learning to theological pedagogy authority and online community The concept of interruptive pedagogy is presented as an interpretative model to critically appraise an approach to online education that draws on the best theological tradition yet also looks to the future

The Handbook of Religion and Communication Yoel Cohen, Paul A. Soukup, 2023-02-14 Provides a contemporary view of the intertwined relationship of communication and religion The Handbook of Religion and Communication presents a detailed investigation of the complex interaction between media and religion offering diverse perspectives on how both traditional and new media sources continue to impact religious belief and practice across multiple faiths around the globe Contributions from leading international scholars address key themes such as the changing role of religious authority in the digital age the role of media in cultural shifts away from religious institutions and the ways modern technologies have transformed how religion is communicated and portrayed Divided into five parts the Handbook opens with a state of the art overview of the subject s intellectual landscape introducing the historical background theoretical foundations and major academic approaches to communication media and religion Subsequent sections focus on institutional and functional perspectives theological and cultural approaches and new approaches in digital technologies The essays provide insight into a wide range of topics including religious use of media religious identity audience gratification religious broadcasting religious content in entertainment films and religion news reporting about religion race and gender the sex religion matrix religious crisis communication public relations and advertising televangelism pastoral ministry death and the media online religion future directions in religious communication and more Explores the increasing role of media in creating religious identity and communicating religious experience

Discusses the development and evolution of the communication practices of various religious bodies Covers all major media sources including radio television film press digital online content and social media platforms Presents key empirical research real world case studies and illustrative examples throughout Encompasses a variety of perspectives including individual and institutional actors academic and theoretical areas and different forms of communication media Explores media and religion in Judeo Christian traditions Islam Buddhism Hinduism religions of Africa Atheism and others The Handbook of Religion and Communication is an essential resource for scholars academic researchers practical theologians seminarians mass communication researchers and undergraduate and graduate students taking courses on media and religion

Prophetically Incorrect Robert H. Jr. Woods, Paul D. Patton, 2010-08-01 The Bible includes prophetic speech and at times the church and its representatives are called to speak prophetically But in our media saturated age when many claim to speak for God how can we evaluate the avalanche of supposedly prophetic speech What does it mean to truly be prophetic And when Christians should speak prophetically how can they do so in a biblical and effective way Using vivid examples this book offers clear guidelines for creating critiquing and consuming popular media as well as practical suggestions for faithful communication It also helps readers think critically about communication technology The book includes a foreword by Quentin Schultze and a preface by Clifford Christians

The Art of Dialogue Ineke de Feijter, 2007 Media and culture are deeply intertwined in contemporary society Religions have problems relating to this media culture which is shaped by media processes and conditioned by digital media and interactive forms of communication Media set the agenda and they profoundly challenge religions both with respect to their public communication and their very existence and public relevance People increasingly use media for shaping their religious identity and their search with respect to questions of ultimate meaning Barely any theological studies exist that reflect on religious policies and their subsequent praxis in the field of communication The author analyzes Christian policy views and identifies the main problems and opportunities in relating to media culture

Preaching Timothy Keller, 2015-06-09 Pastor preacher and New York Times bestselling author of The Prodigal Prophet Timothy Keller shares his wisdom on communicating the Christian faith from the pulpit as well as from the coffee shop Most Christians including pastors struggle to talk about their faith in a way that applies the power of the Christian gospel to change people's lives Timothy Keller is known for his insightful down to earth sermons and talks that help people understand themselves encounter Jesus and apply the Bible to their lives In this accessible guide for pastors and laypeople alike Keller helps readers learn to present the Christian message of grace in a more engaging passionate and compassionate way

Communication and Change in American Religious History Leonard I. Sweet, 1993 Well known historians explore a fascinating array of topics concerning religious and social change in America from colonial times to the present looking especially at how the emergence of new communications forms contributed to those choices Contributors include Martin E Marty Glenn T Miller Mark A Noll David G Buttrick and others

Faith-Based Education That

Constructs HeeKap Lee,2010-08-09 Constructivism is everywhere It is a hot issue at this time in the field of philosophy education technology and religion However can constructivism be an alternative approach in faith based education While some conclude that Jesus knew learning was an active knowledge creating process and that he always encouraged his disciples to think deeply and go beyond the surface level others would find that constructivism undercuts faith based education because of its claims to relativity For example constructivists claim that meaning is imposed on the world by us rather than existing in the world independently from us Thus they proclaim that truth is relative to particular times places and people Christians hold that truth does exist absolutely So how can there be a way forward for faith based educators who see the good in the constructivist approach In Faith Based Education that Constructs readers will find a unique approach whereby constructivism may appropriately be applied to a faith based education setting Although disagreement can occur between constructivism and faith based education this book concludes that constructivist thought and Christian faith based education are in the end congruent and harmonious in significant ways Those faith based educators who continue to hold cautionary views of radical constructivist assertions against absolute truths need not disregard all other aspects of constructivism Faith in an Age of Reason and Science Ferdinand Nwaigbo,2003 Heals the old rift between faith and reason and to open a new horizon for faith and science in the New Age Index of Conference Proceedings British Library. Document Supply Centre,2002 From Clash to Dialogue of Religions Casimir Chinedu O. Nzeh,2002 September 11 2001 is now etched into the collective world consciousness as a water shed in the modern history of relationship between the world civilizations These civilizations are essentially rooted in religious faiths that are largely ignorant of each other and consequently mutually hostile Hopefully not too late the world has woken up to this awesome reality This work started by the author some years ago before September 11 2001 is appearing at a most auspicious time when Nigeria indeed is like the world stage in microcosm where the contradictions between faith and praxis in the relationship between these world religions are played out Using Nigeria as a case study the author painstakingly analyses the commonly shared areas of faith between Islam and the Christian Faith and carefully scrutinizes the background motives and characteristics of the friction points between the two religions The result of his research challenges both religions by exposing how much they have in common to co exist peacefully and assure humanity that peace is inexorably bound up with religion It also underscores the Catholic Social Teaching with its principles values and norms for the foundation of a sound social Order and structure of social life Contents Background to Christian Islamic Tension Islamic Religion and its Socio economic and Political Aspirations in Nigeria Christian Incursion in Nigeria its Social and Political Implications Christian Islamic Tension in Nigeria The Social Teaching of the Church Areas of Application Religious Co existence in a Pluralistic Nigeria Christian Scholar's Review ,2001 Religion and the Media Chris Arthur,1993 The Gospel and Contemporary Culture Hugh Montefiore,1992 The need for inculturation in contemporary society is becoming increasingly urgent Mainstream churches dangerously inward looking have now recognized the need to look out at the people they live among in the Decade of Evangelism In order to evangelize successfully we must understand how the values underlying contemporary culture and those underpinning the Gospel differ we must test the fundamental assumptions of society by the yardstick of the Gospel and the Gospel we preach by its relevance to that society BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Identities in Context Katherine Fry, Barbara Jo Lewis, 2008 Each of the essays in this book explores identity in different contexts The contexts included here are space time myth religion and media The specifics of history and place are important contexts to consider when analyzing how identity is shaped But the contextual frameworks of communications media myth systems and religions also draw unique boundaries around the identities of individuals and groups Myth and religion are belief systems that bind people physically spiritually and emotionally Communications media are the cultural and technological means through which communication among and between individuals and groups occur Of course all of these contexts are very different but they are not mutually exclusive The essays offer examples of the various ways in which a number of contextual frameworks work together in creating and sustaining identities in space and through time
