Stevens, Hazel Dicken Garcia, 1980-04-01 The history of communication is a new subject in mass communication and journalism curricula one for which there has been only scattered published research and no adequate text Communication History attempts to remedy both of these problems by providing a challenging new approach to the study of communication over time Moving away from a tradition that focuses merely on major communication personalities or institutions the authors instead encourage the reader to see the interrelated processes by which information is diffused The authors utilize social science concepts and techniques to enlarge and enrich our understanding of communication in historical perspective International Communication History, 2002 The International History of Communication Study Peter Simonson, David W. Park, 2015-10-14 The International History of Communication Study maps the growth of media and communication studies around the world Drawing out transnational flows of ideas institutions publications and people it offers the most comprehensive picture to date of the global history of communication research and education This volume reaches into national and regional areas that have not received much attention in the scholarship until now including Asia Latin America Africa and the Middle East alongside Europe and North America It also covers communication study outside of academic settings in international organizations like UNESCO and among commercial and civic groups It moves beyond the traditional canon to cover work by forgotten figures including women scholars in the field and those outside of the United States and Europe and it situates them all within the broader geopolitical institutional and intellectual landscapes that have shaped communication study globally. Intended for scholars and graduate students in communication media studies and journalism, this volume pushes the history of communication study in new directions by taking an aggressively international and comparative perspective on the historiography of the field.
