Community Brithplace Of Popular Consent:

Statehood as Political Community Alex Green,2024-02-14 Alex Green argues that states arise under contemporary international law only when two abstract conditions are fulfilled First emerging states must constitute genuine political communities collectives within which particular kinds of ethically valuable behaviour are possible Second such communities must emerge in a manner consistent with the ethical importance of individual political action This uniquely Grotian theory of state creation provides a clear legal framework comprising four factual antecedents and five procedural principles rendering the law of statehood both coherent and normatively attractive
