Doctor Wortle's School - Large Print Anthony Trollope, 2020-10-17 The Rev Jeffrey Wortle D D was a man much esteemed by others and by himself He combined two professions in both of which he had been successful had been and continued to be at the time in which we speak of him I will introduce him to the reader in the present tense as Rector of Bowick and proprietor and head master of the school established in the village of that name The seminary at Bowick had for some time enjoyed a reputation under him not that he had ever himself used so new fangled and unpalatable a word in speaking of his school Bowick School had been established by himself as preparatory to Eton Dr Wortle had been elected to an assistant mastership at Eton early in life soon after he had become a Fellow of Exeter There he had worked successfully for ten years and had then retired to the living of Bowick On going there he had determined to occupy his leisure and if possible to make his fortune by taking a few boys into his house By dint of charging high prices and giving good food perhaps in part also by the quality of the education which he imparted his establishment had become popular and had outgrown the capacity of the parsonage He had been enabled to purchase a field or two close abutting on the glebe gardens and had there built convenient premises He now limited his number to thirty boys for each of which he charged 200 a year It was said of him by his friends that if he would only raise his price to 250 he might double the number and really make a fortune In answer to this he told his friends that he knew his own business best he declared that his charge was the only sum that was compatible both with regard to himself and honesty to his customers and asserted that the labours he endured were already quite heavy enough In fact he recommended all those who gave him advice to mind their own business It may be said of him that he knew his own so well as to justify him in repudiating counsel from others There are very different ideas of what a fortune may be supposed to consist It will not be necessary to give Dr Wortle s exact idea No doubt it changed with him increasing as his money increased But he was supposed to be a comfortable man He paid ready money and high prices He liked that people under him should thrive and he liked them to know that they throve by his means He liked to be master and always was He was just and liked his justice to be recognised He was generous also and liked that too to be known He kept a carriage for his wife who had been the daughter of a poor clergyman at Windsor and was proud to see her as well dressed as the wife of any county squire But he was a domineering husband As his wife worshipped him and regarded him as a Jupiter on earth from whose nod there could be and should be no appeal but little harm came from this If a tyrant he was an affectionate tyrant His wife felt him to be so His servants his parish and his school all felt him to be so They obeyed him loved him and believed in him So upon the whole at the time with which we are dealing did the diocese the county and that world of parents by whom the boys were sent to his school But this had not come about without some hard fighting He was over fifty years of age and had been Rector of Bowick for nearly twenty During that time there had been a succession of three bishops and he had quarrelled more or less with all of them It might be juster to say that they had all of them had more or less of occasion to find fault with him Now Dr Wortle or Mr Wortle as he should be called in reference to that period was a man who would bear censure from no human being
