The Liminal Garden Jacci Den Hartog, 1998 Domestic Space in Eighteenth-Century British Novels Karen Lipsedge, 2012-09-28 Examining the work of three authors Richardson Haywood and Burney and their representation of domestic space this book argues that to make such spaces accessible to modern readers they need to have information of the real domestic By recreating specifics of these spaces this book innervates the fictional domestic interior for modern readers

The Roman Garden Katharine T. von Stackelberg, 2009-06-22 This innovative book is the first comprehensive study of ancient Roman gardens to combine literary and archaeological evidence with contemporary space theory It applies a variety of interdisciplinary methods including access analysis literary and gender theory to offer a critical framework for interpreting Roman gardens as physical sites and representations The Roman Garden Space Sense and Society examines how the garden functioned as a conceptual sensual and physical space in Roman society and its use as a vehicle of cultural communication Readers will learn not only about the content and development of the Roman garden but also how they promoted memories and experiences It includes a detailed original analysis of garden terminology and concludes with three case studies on the House of Octavius Quartio and the House of the Menander in Pompeii Pliny s Tuscan garden and Caligula s Horti Lamiani in Rome Providing both an introduction and an advanced analysis this is a valuable and original addition to the growing scholarship in ancient gardens and will complement courses on Roman history landscape archaeology and environmental history

Style and Assemblage in Roman Archaeology Eva Mol, 2025-10-30 Style and Assemblage in Roman Archaeology proposes a rethinking of the way in which objects styles concepts and people relate in archaeological interpretation using Egyptian and Egyptian styled objects from the houses of Roman Pompeii as a case study Integrating anthropological theories Mol has developed a critical new method termed relational perception to show how we can better incorporate the messy and intuitive processes of style perception and classification in the Roman past as well as more generally in archaeological research The houses of Pompeii yielded many objects that scholars nowadays would label as Egyptian or Egyptianized They consist of imported and locally produced objects such as figurines sculptures furniture jewellery mosaics or wall paintings The interpretations regarding their presence and meaning have traditionally mostly been drawn without proper contextual analysis or theoretical underpinnings and even more problematic the collection and interpretation of artefacts were based on modern scholarly perceptions of what Egypt entails Mol shows how this particular Western and colonial perception and art historical categorization has influenced our idea of Egypt in the Roman world and how it still affects the interpretation of foreign objects in general This book examines in detail how foreign objects and styles were integrated in and shaped the Roman world and senses of personhood and serves as an excellent example to illustrate the complexity that should be integral to the processes of archaeological classification and interpretation

Morisot's Modernism and Impressionist Art Claire Moran, 2025-09-29 This volume seeks to reframe French Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot 1841 95 in the history of art via a focus on the spaces and people that informed her work and thereby offers a new interpretation of Impressionism and of modernist aesthetics Claire Moran utilizes close visual analyses of artworks in particular those of family friends domestic servants and acquaintances textual analysis of Morisot's journals and letters investigation of late nineteenth century advice manuals magazines and advertisements in relation to Morisot's life and work examination of housing floor plans and gardens and the study of specific household objects that recur in her work and their history This multi pronged method of analysis grounded in Morisot's lived experience will allow a new understanding of Morisot's art to emerge one with the potential to not only highlight the modernity of her aesthetics but also question both public and critical assumptions about Impressionism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history gender studies French studies and history of design

The Sixties Art Scene in London David Mellor,1993 The sixties saw the emergence of many of Britain's most important artists amongst them Anthony Caro Robyn Denny David Hockney Richard Hamilton and Bridget Riley This book explores the explosion of styles and techniques which characterized the decade

Crossing Borders, Dissolving Boundaries Hein Viljoen,2013 Borders separate but also connect self and other and literary texts not only enact these bordering processes but form part of such processes This book gestures towards a borderless world stepping as it were with thousand mile boots from south to north even across the Atlantic from South Africa to Scandinavia It also shows how literary texts model and remodel borders and bordering processes in rich and meaningful local contexts The essays assembled here analyse the crossing and negotiation of borders and boundaries in works by Nadine Gordimer Ingrid Winterbach Deneys Reitz Janet Suzman Marlene van Niekerk A S Byatt Thomas Harris Frank A Jenssen Eben Venter Antjie Krog and others under different signs or conceptual points of attraction These signs include a spiritual turn eventfulness self understanding ethnic and linguistic mobilization performative chronotopes the grotesque the carceral the rhetorical and the interstitial

Our Beautiful, Dry, and Distant Texts James Elkins,2010-11-01 Elkins argues that writing is what art historians produce and whether such writing is a transparent vehicle for the transmission of facts or an embattled forum for the rehearsal of institutional relations and constructions of history it is an expressive medium with the capacity for emotion and reflection Therefore it needs to be taken seriously for its own sake it is the testament of art history and of individual historians and it is only weakened and slighted by versions of history that imagine it either as uncontrolled dissemination or as objective discovery and reporting
