Radiance and Sunrise Lope K. Santos, 2021

Lope K. Santos' novel Banaag at Sikat is a love story framed as a political tale. Published in 1906, it was later hailed as Asia's first proletariat novel. It revolves around Delfin, a poor man in love with Meni, a capitalist's daughter. Delfin is a socialist, while Felipe, his friend, is an anarchist. Delfin wants the citizens to have more rights in business and property relations. He believes that society could be changed through education. On the other hand, Felipe believes in tearing down society's walls. Factories should be owned by those who work there, and land owned by those who till it. Banaag at Sikat mirrors the clash of forces during the American empire in the Philippines. Its burning passages on race, class, and colonialism still resonate today. Translated by one of Asia's best writers, it is hoped that this modern rendering will inspire new readers to shape their lives so they can help change the world. Remoto is one of Asia's finest bilingual writers. In this book, he renders Banaag at Sikat in a fluent and contemporary English that introduces this Tagalog classic to a new generation of global readers.

Dr. Bienvenido Lumbera, National Artist of the Philippines, Winner of the Ramon Magsaysay Award for Literature, Asia's Nobel Prize. Lush, limpid, and lean. Danton Remoto is a stylist of the English language. Read him. Bernice Reubens, winner of the Man Booker Prize for the novel The Elected Member.

The Canon in Southeast Asian Literatures David Smyth, 2000

The literary canon is one of the most lively areas of debate in contemporary literary studies. This set of essays is both timely and original in its focus on the canon in South East Asian literatures, covering Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam. They vary in focus from the broad panoramic survey of trends in a national literature to very specific discussions of the role of individuals in shaping a canon or the place of a particular text within a tradition, and from contemporary to traditional literature. They include discussions of the development of prose fiction, censorship, and artistic freedom, the role of westerners in codifying indigenous literatures, the writing of literary history, the development of literary criticism, and indigenous aesthetics.
