The Castle Franz Kafka, 2012-12-05 From the author of The Metamorphosis and The Trial one of the greatest writers of the twentieth century the haunting tale of K's relentless unavailing struggle with an inscrutable authority in order to gain access to the Castle Translated and with a preface by Mark Harman Arriving in a village to take up the position of land surveyor for the mysterious lord of a castle the character known as K finds himself in a bitter and baffling struggle to contact his new employer and go about his duties The Castle's original manuscript was left unfinished by Kafka in 1922 and not published until 1926 two years after his death Scrupulously following the fluidity and breathlessness of the sparsely punctuated original manuscript Mark Harman's new translation reveals levels of comedy energy and visual power previously unknown to English language readers

Where Here Begins David Jennings Gramling,2008 Translation in a Global Market ,2001 What is the impact of globalization on texts and media To what extent do artists and writers consciously or unconsciously build translatability into their work Translation in a Global Market addresses these questions as well as the problems that may arise from a global market in cultural and aesthetic forms For instance what does a global market that increasingly rewards translation friendly works that cross linguistic and cultural boundaries mean for publishing in non Western languages What are the politics of an emergent internationalized aesthetic that privileges metropolitan over vernacular genres And why do specific cultural objects arrive and circulate in various public spheres The essays in this volume critically investigate these questions without assuming that these objects were destined to arrive in those public spheres Translation in a Global Market assembles contributors from several academic disciplines as well as visual artists for a closer look at the formation of an international canon and at the kinds of texts that gain international visibility The essays urge a shift in emphasis from global literacy which implies the use of a standard language and a preference for translatability in texts to transnational literacy which places minority and diaspora literatures in direct conversation with each other rather than with Paris London or New York Contributors Dina Al Kassim Emily Apter Timothy Brennan Elena Climent Maryse Condé Michael Eng Ren e Green Rainer Ganahl Sarah M Hudgins Michael North Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak
