Clashing Cultures:

Clash of Cultures Brian M. Fagan, 1997-11-26 In Europe it was called the Age of Discovery To the rest of the world it often meant slavery epidemic disease cultural genocide and wholesale social and economic changes What happened in the period when Europe first came in contact with the rest of the world In this new edition of Brian Fagan's Clash of Cultures the best selling author offers a series of fascinating cases on the impact of cultural contact including cultures such as those of the Huron fur traders South African Khoi Khoi Tahitians Japanese and Aztecs Each case provides a description of the pre European culture the short term impacts of European contact and long term changes caused by the clash of two cultures Fagan also explores the many advances in the general literature on this period such as the people without history world systems analysis and the debate over Captain Cook Ideal for courses in cultural anthropology world history historical archaeology ethnic studies or area studies as well as for the general reader

The Clash with Distant Cultures Richard J. Payne, 1995-01-01 An analysis of the impact of cultural values on the use of force and negotiations in American foreign policy

Cultural Contestation in Ethnic Conflict Marc Howard Ross, 2007-05-03 Ethnic conflict often focuses on culturally charged symbols and rituals that evoke strong emotions from all sides Marc Howard Ross examines battles over diverse cultural expressions including Islamic headscarves in France parades in Northern Ireland holy sites in Jerusalem and Confederate flags in the American South to propose a psychocultural framework for understanding ethnic conflict as well as barriers to and opportunities for its mitigation His analysis explores how culture frames interests structures demand making and shapes how opponents can find common ground to produce constructive outcomes to long term disputes He focuses on participants accounts of conflict to identify emotionally significant issues and the power of cultural expressions to link individuals to larger identities and shape action Ross shows that contrary to popular belief culture does not necessarily exacerbate conflict rather the constructed nature of psychocultural narratives can facilitate successful conflict mitigation through the development of more inclusive narratives and identities

Seeing Culture Everywhere Joana Breidenbach, Pál Nyíri, 2011-07-01 Today's world is shaped by an obsession with cultural difference that penetrates everyday life and matters of state in unprecedented ways Culture and cultural difference are commonly used to explain everything that's in the news from wars to economic development and consumer behavior This fuels the belief that our world is shaped by clashing cultures a view that is counterproductive when it assumes falsely that culture is a timeless container that traps nations and ethnic groups Seeing Culture Everywhere challenges the misguided and dangerous global obsession with cultural difference and directly critiques the popular notion that world affairs are determined by essential civilizations with immutable and conflicting cultures The book offers an alternative view of a world in which cultural mixing not isolation is the norm but where several historical trends have come together at the beginning of the twenty first century to produce the current wave of culture think Brimming with concrete examples that move from genocide in Rwanda to schools in Berlin from the Chrysler boardroom to the war in Iraq it contemplates how ethnic identity can be mobilized in the service of all kinds of goals violent or nonviolent laudable or despicable and the unintended effects such mobilization invariably produces The authors suggest ways to remain sensitive to the cultural impacts of policies and decisions without falling into the traps of determinism essentialism and misrepresentation Seeing Culture Everywhere will be useful in the fields of anthropology law intercultural communication and international relations as well as for general readers interested in ethnicity and travel Masters of Culture Gebhard Deissler,2010-12 Scientific Essay from the year 2010 in the subject Cultural Studies Miscellaneous course Kulturanthropologie language English abstract In this heading a twofold monumental assumption is hidden Supreme intelligence can be equated to true cultural enlightenment But in order to be truly enlightened in cultural matters a shadowless light is required And as culture is part of the psychological architecture of man the entire mental infrastructure needs to be illumined for if one component of the whole casts a shadow the entire mental architecture and with it the cultural contents will be affected and darkened and thus impair the desired uncorrupted cultural intelligence which can only blossom in a pristine pure mind This rather perfect state is that of mastership of culture for it will only radiate the pristine purity of the mind in the outer world and soothe cultural tensions wounds and conflicts Clash of Cultures D. Parsuram Maharaj,2002 Cross Cultural Management in the 21st century and how it effects Negotiations with an example of HP Nina Müller,2004-08-26 Diploma Thesis from the year 2004 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance grade 1 5 A International School of Management Dortmund Private University language English abstract Introduction Globalization in the 21st century Globalization has become one of the most discussed and controversial issues in the beginning of the 21st century In terms of business globalization is an opportunity to gain competitive advantage and market growth Yet what is associated with globalization Why do many companies see themselves limited and sometimes even impotent trading globally and what are the critical success factors in global negotiations According to the Future Commission of the Friedrich Ebert Stiftung globalization is a complex set of overlapping and interacting processes at a global level The Future Commission continued noting that globalization is in connection with the growing international interrelatedness of markets economies and companies Future Commission of the Friedrich Ebert Stiftung 1998 56 Hence globalization is a world wide ongoing interhuman relationship process on different levels They include social private and business aspects In the case of business terms it should not be forgotten that globalization is not merely an increase of imports and exports It implies the application of the principle of free markets in an international context This dissertation contains the sources and explanations of why international negotiation is important to sustain competitive It shall allow the reader to get an insight of why western and eastern cultures are often clashing together and thus prospecting business deals are cancelled Moreover the dissertation provides the reader with a general solution to overcome barriers in negotiating with foreigners and how important it is to gain not only technical and cognitive but also cultural skills Understanding and accepting the differences in values and beliefs is crucial to be a global player By getting a precise idea of the theoretical part the author will endow the reader with a case study of Hewlett Packard HP and how the founders William Bill Hewlett and David Dave Packard have started business in a garage with merely two employees Gradually after 60 years HP became the world class leader in printing devices Furthermore the study is showing the importance of the present Chairman and Chief Executive Officer CEO Carly Fiorina who let HP into the 21st century Carly Fiorina is considered to be the most powerful women in the United States of America USA Hjelt 2003 40 48 The Clash of Culture and the Contact of Races George Henry Lane Fox Pitt-Rivers,1927 Clashes of Cultures Jens Chr.
