Conflict Archaeology, Historical Memory, and the Experience of War Mark Axel Tveskov, Ashley Ann Bissonnette, 2023-01-10 This volume presents approaches to the archaeology of war that move beyond the forensic analysis of battlefields fortifications and other sites of conflict to consider the historical memory commemoration and social experience of war

Violence and Public Memory Martin Blatt, 2023-06-23 Violence and Public Memory assesses the relationship between these two subjects by examining their interconnections in varied case studies across the United States South America Europe the Middle East and Africa Those responsible for the violence discussed in this volume are varied and the political ideologies and structures range from apartheid to fascism to homophobia to military dictatorships but also democracy Racism and state terrorism have played central roles in many of the case studies examined in this book and multiple chapters also engage with the recent rise of the Black Lives Matter movement The sites and history represented in this volume address a range of issues including mass displacement genocide political repression forced disappearances massacres and slavery Across the world there are preserved historic sites memorials and museums that mark places of significant violence and human rights abuse which organizations and activists have specifically worked to preserve and provide a place to face history and its continuing legacy today and chapters across this volume directly engage with the questions and issues that surround these sometimes controversial sites Including photographs of many of the sites and events covered across the volume this is an important book for readers interested in the complex and often difficult history of the relationship between violence and the way it is publicly remembered

Indigenous Activism in the Midwest Margret McCue-Enser, 2025-09-01 In Indigenous Activism in the Midwest Refusal Resurgence and Resisting Settler Colonialism Margret McCue Enser examines how Minnesota Indigenous activists use public memory sites to interrupt and challenge the dominant narrative of place She explores how Indigenous activism reveals and disrupts material discursive and performative rhetorics of settler colonialism This work cultivates the ground between rhetorical studies of place and space and Indigenous studies in which place is central to Indigeneity and activism Using largely in situ analysis and drawing on Indigenous and rhetorical scholarship as well as Indigenous and mainstream press the analysis focuses on sites such as an outdoor art installation a historic settlers village centennial and sesquicentennial farms and a celebrated military fort
