Dalhousie Review Spring 1978 Vol 58 1:

A Study Guide for Philip Larkin's "Arundel Tomb" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016 A Study Guide for Philip Larkin's Arundel Tomb excerpted from Gale's acclaimed Poetry for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Poetry for Students for all of your research needs The Dalhousie Review, 1978 Prism International, 1979 Pioneering North America Klaus Martens, 2000 Papers Presented at the Annual Meeting Canadian Political Science Association, 1979 Working in English Heather Murray, 1996 This is an analysis of English studies in higher education addressed in particular to practitioners in the field teachers and students As Heather Murray states in her introduction those who work in English are likely to have a stronger sense of critical history than of disciplinary history She contends that in order to understand and reform the discipline of English studies it is necessary to shift the focus of examination down and back to look at ordinary and often taken for granted disciplinary practices such as pedagogy and to extend the historical frame Murray begins with an examination of some important historical moments in the development of the discipline in Canada the appointment in 1889 of W J Alexander as first professor of English at the University of Toronto the twenty five year experiment early in this century in rhetorical and dramatic education for women that the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression represented and the entry of theory into the English Canadian academy The second section examines some of the common features and routines of English departments such as curriculum design seminar groups tests and assignments essay questions and the conference in order to establish the critical political principles that underpin study and teaching in the academy today In this section Murray also focuses on the role of women as students and teachers of English The final section surveys the literature available for further research on the discipline and for constructing a history of English studies in Canada BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved We Walked Very Warily Margaret Gillett, 1981 A Record of Writing Roy Miki, 1990 Traces the development of poet laureate George Bowering's many writings through four decades Revisoning Duras Janet Sayers, James S. Williams, 2000-01-01 The extraordinary range complexity and power of Marguerite Duras novelist dramatist film maker essayist has been justly recognized Yet in the years following her death in 1996 there has been an increasing tendency to consecrate her work particularly by those critics who approach it primarily in biographical terms The British and American specialists featured in this interdisciplinary collection aim to resurrect the Duras corpus in all its forms by submitting it theoretically to three main areas of enquiry By establishing how far Duras's work questions and redefines the parameters of literary and cinematic form as well as the categories of race and ethnicity homosexuality and heterosexuality fantasy and violence the contributors to this volume revision Duras's work in the widest sense of the term Dictionary of Canadian Biography / Dictionnaire Biographique Du Canada Frances G. Halpenny, Jean Hamelin, 1990-05 These biographies of Canadians are arranged chronologically by date of death Entries in each volume are listed alphabetically with bibliographies of source material and an index to names Contemporary Canadian Authors Gale Group, Robert Lang, 1996-12 A new Canadian version of the highly successful and award winning Contemporary Authors Series this publication provides biographical information on 203 Canadian contemporary novelists playwrights journalists and scriptwriters More than 25 of the entries do not appear in any other Gale publication The remaining authors are derived from Gale's comprehensive Contemporary Authors literary database These bio-bibliographical profiles have been researched revised and updated to provide your patrons and students convenient single volume access to the most current information available on Canada's leading writers Among the details included you'll find Personal information where to get in touch with the author career histories writings works in progress biographical critical sources Author's comments and or informative essays about their lives and works English and French speaking authors Award winning authors such as Carol Shields Margaret Laurence Northrop Frye and Margaret Atwood Changing Women, Changing History Diana Pederson, 1996-10-15 Changing Women Changing History is a bibliographic guide to the scholarship both English and French on Canadian's women's history Organized under broad subject headings and accompanied by author and subject indices it is accessible and comprehensive Robert Kroetsch and His Works Ann Munton, 1992-08 A study of Canadian novelist poet and non-fiction writer Robert Kroetsch Literature and Society in the Canadas, 1817-1850 Mary Lu MacDonald, 1992 This work examines the early literature of Upper and Lower Canada written in both English and French in an historical context It includes all the newspapers periodicals and separately published volumes produced in the two colonies between the end of the War of 1812 and the middle of the 19th century as well as relevant archival material Data is organized by analyzing questions of nationality identity historical events social relationships and chronological change Franklin Roosevelt and the Origins of the Canadian-American Security Alliance, 1933-1945 Galen Perras, 1998-03-30 In the turbulent years before World War II U.S. strategic planners struggled with the question of Canadian security Franklin Roosevelt took a unique interest in America's northern neighbor and persistently encouraged Canada to do more to ensure its own defense especially through alliance with the U.S. This aspect of foreign policy resulted in a delicate balancing act between U.S. officials who sought to downplay the strategic importance of Canada and Canadian leaders who saw American overtures as a threat to Canadian sovereignty The first chapter discusses Roosevelt's early efforts between 1933 and 1937 to increase Canadian interest in North American defense The second follows events up to the outbreak of war Although Canada had been seen as part of the rival British Empire Canada now became a natural ally in hemispheric security efforts Roosevelt's dealings with Canadian Prime Minister W. L. M. King who would be branded a puppet for these interactions and the evolution of continental defense efforts are discussed in the third chapter The fourth chapter chronicles the wartime struggles of two new allies as Roosevelt became more concerned with Europe and the coming Soviet threat The final chapter further explains the declining interest in Canada

as World War II becomes the focus of American interests The Writers' Union of Canada Writers' Union of Canada,1981

The Politics of Linkage Brian Bow,2010-07-01 Do Canada and the United States share a special relationship or is this a mere myth that has masked stark calculations of national interest Recent tensions over the Iraq War and ballistic missile defence have resurrected this perennial Canadian debate and triggered alarm about whether the US would make coercive linkages between issues to force Canada to change its policies The Politics of Linkage cuts through political rhetoric and academic clichés by offering detailed accounts of postwar disputes over nuclear weapons Arctic waters oil and gas and the Iraq War Although early Cold War disputes were governed by a diplomatic culture that was genuinely special the limits of Canadian autonomy are now defined by the ever shifting alignment of interest groups in Washington and by international agreements and organizations Canadian Writers and Their Works Robert Lecker,Jack David,Ellen Quigley,Donald Wilfred McLeod,1983 A Bibliography of the History of Canadian Science and Technology Arnold E. Roos,Canadian Science and Technology Historical Association,1995 Canadian Ethnic Studies ,1977
