Dangerous Life:

New York Magazine, 1988-11-28 New York Magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.

Abraham Ibn Ezra Latinus on Nativities, 2019-03-27 Abraham Ibn Ezra was reborn in the Latin West in the last decades of the thirteenth century thanks to a plethora of authored and anonymous Latin translations of his astrological writings. The present volume offers the first critical edition accompanied by an English translation, a commentary, and an introductory study of Liber nativitatum Book of Nativities and Liber Abraham Iudei de nativitatibus Book on Nativities by Abraham the Jew, two astrological treatises in Latin that were written by Abraham Ibn Ezra or attributed to him and whose Hebrew source text or archetype has not survived. The first is undoubtedly an anonymous Latin translation of the second version of Ibn Ezra's Sefer ha moladot Book of Nativities whose Hebrew source text is otherwise lost. The second is the most mysterious specimen among the Latin works attributed to Ibn Ezra that have no extant Hebrew counterpart. The present volume shows not only that the Liber Abraham Iudei de nativitatibus underwent a significant metamorphosis over time and was transmitted in four significantly different versions but also that its date of composition is not that previously accepted by modern scholarship. These volumes represent a major achievement in the history of medieval astrology and it is no wonder that they have already become classics often referred to by specialists in the field including by this reviewer David Juste Ptolemaeus Arabus et Latinus Munich Journal for the History of Astronomy 51 I 2020
