Daniel O'Connell Portrait Of A Radical:

Daniel O'Connell Kevin B. Nowlan, Maurice R. O'Connell, 1984 Radical Spaces Christina Parolin, 2010-12-01
RADICAL SPACES explores the rise of popular radicalism in London between 1790 and 1845 through key sites of radical assembly the prison the tavern and the radical theatre Access to spaces in which to meet agitate and debate provided those excluded from the formal arenas of the political nation the great majority of the population a crucial voice in the public sphere RADICAL SPACES utilises both textual and visual public records private correspondence and the secret service reports from the files of the Home Office to shed new light on the rise of plebeian radicalism in the metropolis It brings the gendered nature of such sites to the fore finding women where none were thought to gather and reveals that despite the diversity in these spaces there existed a dynamic and symbiotic relationship between radical culture and the sites in which it operated These venues were both shaped by and helped to shape the political identity of a generation of radical men and women who envisioned a new social and political order for Britain A History of Ireland, 1800-1922 Hilary Larkin, 2014-02-01 The years of Ireland's union with Great Britain are most often regarded as a period of great turbulence and conflict And so they were But there are other stories too and these need to be integrated in any account of the period Ireland's progressive primary education system is examined here alongside the Famine the growth of a happily middle class Victorian suburbia is taken into account as well as the appalling Dublin slum statistics In each case neither story stands without the other This study synthesises some of the main scholarly developments in Irish and British historiography and seeks to provide an updated and fuller understanding of the debates surrounding nineteenth and early twentieth century history Ireland and Anglo-Irish Relations since 1800: Critical Essays N.C. Fleming, Alan O'Day, 2017-11-30 The Act of Union coming into effect on 1 January 1801 portended the integration of Ireland into a unified if not necessarily uniform community This volume treats the complexities perspectives methodologies and debates on the themes of the years between 1801 and 1879 Its focus is the making of the Union the Catholic question the age of Daniel O'Connell the famine and its consequences emigration and settlement in new lands post famine politics religious awakenings Fenianism the rise of home rule politics and emergent feminism Victorian Britain Sally Mitchell, 2011 First published in 1988 this encyclopedia serves as an overview and point of entry to the complex interdisciplinary field of Victorian studies The signed articles which cover persons events institutions topics groups and artefacts in Great Britain between 1837 and 1901 have been written by authorities in the field and contain bibliographies to provide guidelines for further research The work is intended for undergraduates and the general reader and also as a starting point for graduates who wish to explore new fields
Correspondence of Daniel O'Connell the liberator Daniel O'Connell, 1888 Chartism, Commemoration and the Cult of the Radical Hero Matthew Roberts, 2019-08-15 Chartism the British mass movement for democratic and social rights in the 1830s and 1840s was profoundly shaped by the radical tradition from which it emerged Yet little attention has been paid to how Chartists saw themselves in relation to this diverse radical tradition or to the ways in which they invented their own tradition Paine Cobbett and other founding fathers dead and alive were used and in some cases abused by Chartists in their own attempts to invent a radical tradition By drawing on new and exciting work in the fields of visual and material culture cultures of heroism memory and commemoration critical heritage studies and the history of political thought this book explores the complex cultural work that radical heroes were made to perform

The Triumph of Liberty Jim Powell,2000 A dramatic narrative history of liberty from ancient times to the present is told through the inspiring life stories of 65 heroes and heroines from the crisis of the Roman Republic to struggles for women s rights l

The Making of the Irish Poor Law, 1815-43 Peter Gray,2009-06-15 Peter Gray presents a complete scholarly account of the origins and introduction of the poor law in Ireland

Biographical Dictionary of Literary Influences John Powell,2000-10-30 Over the past two decades the process of cultural development and in particular the role of reading has been of growing interest but recent research has been episodic and idiosyncratic In this biographical dictionary research devoted specifically to the reading habits of 19th century individuals who shaped Western culture is brought together for the first time While giving prominent coverage to literary and political figures the volume s 270 entries also include musicians painters educators and explorers Each entry includes brief biographical information a concise summary of literary influences on the subject and clear direction for further research The book provides a practical tool for scholars wishing to trace the reading experience of important Western cultural figures Subjects were selected from the people most responsible for the cultural development of Europe Britain and the British Empire and the Americas between 1800 and 1914 Although selective the sample of 270 figures is substantial enough to suggest broad cross cultural habits and effects enabling scholars to better understand the relationship between reading and culture In an introductory essay Powell explores the patterns and relationships that can be discerned from the entries The first of three anticipated volumes the book is an important step forward in researching the role of reading in cultural development
