Newman,2007-12-04 The Internet has had a huge impact on channels of communication and information reaching across time and space to connect the world through globalisation In this Internet led world story links to story windows open on new stories and no overall authority establishes priority This sense of globalisation has raised many questions for contemporary American Novelists primarily the usefulness or redundancy of narrative and its potentially adaptive function What are the right stories for such a broadband world How do contemporary American novelists respond to issues such as the influence of the multinational corporation and its predecessors human rights Imperialism the literary work as a marketable commodity translation as betrayal data overload and the implosion of the virtual into the biosphere Is globalisation inevitable or is it a fiction which fiction turns into reality Fictions of America explores these questions and looks at the ways in which India China and Africa can be said to have underwritten American culture how literature has been marketed globally and how novelists

J. Schirra, 2014-10-29 Anyone talking about pictures by necessity refers to those using pictures It is therefore essentially the competence of using pictures that has to be considered Such competence is not common among higher developed mammals at least as far as we know today This fact raises the question whether and to what extent that ability has to be conceived as a strictly anthropological one In an interdisciplinary approach the first international conference of the Society for Interdisciplinary Image Science GiB titled Origins of Pictures has taken a closer look at the role of pictures for the conditio humana The primary goal of the conference was to present empirical findings of the origins of picture uses considering in particular research in paleo anthropology archeology cultural anthropology and developmental psychology Furthermore those findings were to be related to philosophical considerations concerning the conditions of the conceptual formation of picture competence Salomania and the Representation of Race and Gender in Modern Erotic Dance Cecily Devereux, 2023-04-25 Salomania and the Representation of Race and Gender in Modern Erotic Dance situates the 1908 dance craze which The New York Times called Salomania as a crucial event and a turning point in the history of the modern business of erotic dance Framing Salomania with reference to imperial ideologies of motherhood and race it works toward better understanding the increasing value of the display of the undressed female body in the 19th and early 20th centuries This study turns critical attention to cultures of maternity in the late 19th century primarily with reference to the ways in which women are defined in relation to their genitals as patriarchal property and space and are valued according to reproduction as their primary labour Erotic dance as it takes shape in the modern representation of Salome insists both that the mother is and is not visible in the body of the dancer a contradiction this study characterizes as reproductive fetishism Looking at a range of media the study traces the modern figure of Salome through visual art writing early psychoanalysis and dance from hootchie kootch to the performances dancer Maud Allan called mimeo dramatic to mid 20th century North American films such as Billy Wilder s Sunset Boulevard and Charles Lamont s Salome Where She Danced to the 21st century HBO series The Sopranos Starting from Scratch John Matthews, 2010-10-28 This book compares the beginning of symbolic thought in human infancy with that of our close primate relatives the chimpanzees The author investigates the precursors of symbolism by studying the actions and interactions of a small group of these intelligent non human primates who live in Singapore Zoo Drawing upon his years of detailed observations Matthews offers an in depth analysis and interpretation of chimp behaviour to present an unprecedented account of the beginnings of symbolic thought The book shows that the actions the chimpanzees perform have structural and semantic similarities with the actions of emergent expression and representation we find in human infancy Of great importance is the finding that chimpanzee mark making activity is not an artefact of human interference but part of chimpanzee culture Young chimpanzees seem to be introduced to acts of pretence and imagination by older and more experienced ones and taught the rudiments of expression representation and symbolism The implications for our understanding of symbolism language art and education are enormous as are those about our origins and our place within nature The book is written in an accessible style for both specialist and non specialist readers and illustrated with the author s drawings and photographs
