Distributing Worlds through Aesthetic Encounters Sarah A. Mattice, Joshua Stoll, Shuchen Xiang, 2018-01-23 This collection consists of a selection of papers presented at the 2014 Uehiro Cross Currents Philosophy Conference which focused on comparative philosophy held at the University of Hawai i in M noa The annual student conference opens up opportunities for dialogue across cultures and traditions and challenges the status quo of academic philosophy s focus on Western thought alone as exhibited in this book Doing so has both aesthetic and political implications In one way to the extent that comparative philosophy outlines new possibilities for how the world can be distributed how things can be thought of in their spatiotemporal embodiments it is involved in artistic practice the development of an aesthetic a way of making sense of the sensible In another way to the extent that it demonstrates the equality of marginalized voices in its distribution and redistribution of sensibility comparative philosophy takes on a political dimension The chapters within point to this politico aesthetic aspect of comparative philosophy and indeed of philosophy in general

Viewpoints Mary Strong, Laena Wilder, 2009-05-01 Early in its history anthropology was a visual as well as verbal discipline But as time passed visually oriented professionals became a minority among their colleagues and most anthropologists used written words rather than audiovisual modes as their professional means of communication Today however contemporary electronic and interactive media once more place visual anthropologists and anthropologically oriented artists within the mainstream Digital media small sized and easy to use equipment and the Internet with its interactive and public forum websites democratize roles once relegated to highly trained professionals alone However having access to a good set of tools does not guarantee accurate and reliable work Visual anthropology involves much more than media alone This book presents visual anthropology as a work in progress open to the myriad innovations that the new audiovisual communications technologies bring to the field It is intended to aid in contextualizing explaining and humanizing the storehouse of visual knowledge that university students and general readers now encounter and to help inform them about how these new media tools can be used for intellectually and socially beneficial purposes Concentrating on documentary photography and ethnographic film as well as lesser known areas of study and presentation including dance painting architecture archaeology and primate research the book s fifteen contributors feature populations living on all of the world s continents as well as within the United States The final chapter gives readers practical advice about how to use the most current digital and interactive technologies to present research findings
