David Goldblatt Intersections:

David Goldblatt: Intersections David Goldblatt, Camera Austria (Graz), 2005 Regarding Intersections David Goldblatt, Michael Stevenson, 2014 Between 1999 and 2011 David Goldblatt created personal photography in color for the first time While Goldblatt had employed color extensively in his professional work since 1964 it was only with the new political dispensation and the advances of digital reproduction at the end of the millennium that he felt it pertinent comprehensively to make personal photographs in color Initially Goldblatt photographed in his immediate environment Johannesburg before deciding to examine South Africa by taking photographs within a radius of 500 meters of each of the 122 points of intersection of a whole degree of latitude and a whole degree of longitude within its borders Yet in time Goldblatt encountered uninspiring locations and abandoned the project although he retained the idea of intersections From time to time over a period of nine years he travelled the country in search of intersections of ideas values histories conflicts congruencies fears joys and aspirations and the land in which and often because of which these formed This book brings together a selection of Goldblatt's color photography in South Africa from 2002 to 2011 An earlier version Intersections was published by Prestel in 2005 and the catalogue Intersections Intersected consisting of paired black and white and color photographs was published by the Serralves Museum Porto in 2008 David Goldblatt David Goldblatt, Mark Hayworth-Booth, Christoph Danelzik-Brüggemann, 2005 In this generously illustrated monograph the renowned photographer David Goldblatt explores South Africa after the end of apartheid Intersections Intersected David Goldblatt, 2008 For more than 50 years Goldblatt has produced comprehensive series of photographs dealing with poignant issues of life in South Africa Intersections Intersected features approximately 30 pairs of images each set composed of one black and white and one colour image taken before and after 1994 The series of photographs many presented here for the first time were taken in the same place that was visited during the Apartheid regime and then later after its fall The choice of pairs was made by the artist who has also contributed extended documentary captions relating to each one of the images In addition the publication is also accompanied by essays from Ivor Platt and Ulrich Loock Prospect and Refuge in Jo'burg Intersections, 1999-2002, by David Goldblatt Michael MacGarry, 2004 Photographs David Goldblatt, 2006 David Goldblatt renowned South African photographer got 2006 Hasselblad award the most important of the world Landscapes between Then and Now Nicola Brandt, 2020-09-08 In Landscapes Between Then and Now Nicola Brandt examines the increasingly compelling and diverse cross disciplinary work of photographers and artists made during the transition from apartheid to post apartheid and into the contemporary era By examining specific artworks made in South Africa Namibia and Angola Brandt sheds light on established and emerging themes related to aftermath landscapes embodied histories unbelonging spirituality and memorialization She shows how landscape and identity are mutually constituted and profiles this process against the background of the legacy of the acutely racially divisive policies of the apartheid regime that are still reflected on the land As a signpost throughout the book Brandt draws on the work of the renowned South African photographer Santu Mofokeng and his critical thinking about landscape Landscapes Between Then and Now explores how practitioners who engage with identity and their physical environment as a social product might reveal something about the complex and fractured nature of postcolonial and contemporary societies Through diverse strategies and aesthetics they comment on inherent structures and epistemologies of power whilst also expressing new and radical forms of self determinism Brandt asks why these cross disciplinary works ranging from social documentary to experimental performance and embodied practices are critical now and what important possibilities for social and political reflection and engagement they suggest

Museums, Sexuality, and Gender Activism Joshua Adair, Amy Levin, 2020-01-23 Museums Sexuality and Gender Activism examines the role of exhibitionary institutions in representing LGBTQ people cisgender women and nonbinary individuals Considering recent gender and sexuality related developments through a critical lens the volume contributes significantly to the growing body of activist writing on this topic Building on Gender Sexuality and Museums and featuring work from established voices as well as newcomers this volume offers risky and exciting articles from around the world Chapters cover diverse topics including transgender representation erasure and activism two spirit people indigeneity and museums third genders gender and sexuality in heritage sites and historic homes temporary exhibitions on gender and sexuality museum representations of HIV AIDS interventions to increase queer visibility and inclusion in galleries LGBTQ staff alliances and museums gender ambiguity and the disruption of binaries Several chapters focus on areas outside the US and Europe while others explore central topics through the perspectives of racial and ethnic minorities Containing contributions that engage in sustained critique of current policies theory and practice Museums Sexuality and Gender Activism is essential reading for those studying museums women and gender sexuality culture history heritage art media and anthropology The book will also spark interest among museum practitioners public archivists and scholars researching related topics

Grassroots Literacy and the Written Record John Trimbur, 2020-04-08 This book examines how asbestos activists living in remote rural villages in South Africa activated metropolitan resources of representation at the grassroots level in a quest for justice and restitution for the catastrophic effects on their lives caused by the asbestos industry It follows the Asbestos Interest Group AIG over a fifteen year period through its involvement in grassroots research in legal cases and in the compensation systems for asbestos related disease It examines how the AIG became grassroots technicians of translocal paperwork moving texts back and forth between periphery and center pushing documents through the textual mazes of the courts medical institutions the compensation system and various government agencies The book addresses rhetorical mobility and the extent to which given the AIG s position on the periphery it has been able to enter the voices and interests of villagers into formerly inaccessible forums of deliberation and decision making Cultrans Arthur Engelbert, 2005 Fifty-one Years, David Goldblatt David Goldblatt, J. M. Coetzee, 2001 Precise in description Goldblatt s photographs are also acute in historical and political perception They provide a sense of the texture of daily life and an important piece of missing information regarding life under apartheid in South Africa Susan Kismaric The Art Quarterly of the National Art Collections Fund ,2005

Some Afrikaners Revisited David Goldblatt,Antjie Krog,Ivor Powell,2007 The work of David Goldblatt as recipient of the 2006 Hasselblad Foundation Award undoubtedly South Africa s most prominent active photographer reflects a life long exploration of the relationship between individual South Africans and the society they live in His first extended photographic essay was compiled in the 1960s When it was finally published in 1975 as Some Afrikaners Photographed the book created quite a stir locally Eventually most of the small print run had to be sold off for a song Considered one of the major photographic works in this genre Some Afrikaners Photographed was never reprinted and is almost impossible to obtain Some Afrikaners Revisited offers an additional twenty images from the periods which were not included in the original book notes by Goldblatt on how both books came into being a contextualizing essay by Ivor Powell and Antjie Krog s impressionistic response to the images Taken from booksellers website Representation and Spatial Practices in Urban South Africa Leora Farber,2008 Aperture 183 Aperture,2006 Portfolios and Essays from William Christenberry Jessie Mann and Len Prince Jessica Helfand Sze Tsung Leong Nancy Chappell and Mayu Mohanna Bruce Conner and Greil Marcus Harri Kallio and Carlo McCormick 10 Years 100 Artists Sophie Perryer,2004 Celebrating ten years of democracy with a showcase of contemporary South African photography Art South Africa ,2007 The Architectural Review ,2005

Why pictures now ,2006 Street and Studio Tate Modern (Gallery),2008-09 The photographic portrait has two parallel histories that run side by side from the birth of photography to the twenty first century one of portraits made in the studio the other of those taken in the street The advent of small easily concealed cameos allowed photographers to capture subjects in the street unaware In contrast the studio offered the opportunity to present carefully composed images to the world making use of the elaborate staging and technical devices at the photographer s disposal With celebrities today expected to pose for the paparazzi in the street and the studio being used increasingly for informal and intimate shots these traditions have been subverted Accompanying a major exhibition at Tate Modern Street Studio explores the fascinating contrasts tensions and connections between these two traditions BOOK JACKET
