The Current Regulatory Framework Governing Business in Bulgaria Thomas O'Brien,Christian Filipov,2001-01-01 This technical paper outlines the key elements of the regulatory environment for business in Bulgaria Its eight chapters are based largely on a review of Bulgarian legislation and regulations in effect in the second half of the year 2000 In Bulgaria there have been many positive economic developments in recent years By describing and enhancing the understanding of the regulatory framework this paper aims to help bring about further improvements in the years ahead

Does Eurosclerosis Matter? Michelle Riboud,Carolina Sánchez-Páramo,Carlos Silva-Jauregui,2002 Whether or not labor market rigidities are an important contributor to persistently high levels of unemployment remains at the center of an important debate in Europe European labor markets are often viewed as rigid and inflexible in opposition to those in North America where legislation is less protective and fosters more mobility This paper shows that the labor market policies adopted by Central and Eastern European countries aspiring to join the European Union do not appear excessively rigid However significant and wide ranging economic reform programs make it difficult to assess the impact of labor market institutions Public Expenditure Review of Armenia World Bank, Lev M. Freinkman, Pavel Safari, 2003 This the first full scale World Bank Public Expenditure Review for Armenia reviews the main fiscal trends in Armenia for the period of 1997 2001 and develops recommendations with respect to further fiscal adjustment expenditure prioritization and budget consolidation The analysis focuses on the following core issues Sustainability of fiscal adjustment fiscal transparency expenditure priorities and short term expenditure management given the existing economy wide institutional constraints This study covers extra budgetary funds in kind external grants subsidies provided by the state owned companies in the energy and utility sectors and operation of the Social Insurance Fund as well as regular budgetary spending It suggests a medium term action plan to address identified weaknesses Sector chapters review health education and social protection and insurance The report also analyzes budget support for core public infrastructure and Armenia s public investment program

Poverty in Albania Hermine de Soto, 2002-01-01 Annotation During the ten years of reform Albania has been buffeted by set backs which led fully 40% of respondents to indicate that socioeconomic conditions have worsened during that period While informal coping mechanisms have been developed in many communities these are under stress and threaten to give way

Institutional Environment and Public Officials' Performance in Guyana Ömer Gökçeku?, 2001-01-01 This report presents the findings of a survey of public officials in Guyana on a wide range of civil service issues from personnel management practices to rewards and disciplinary action and from budget environment to corruption The objective of the study is to draw conclusions about those institutional weaknesses that should be the immediate target for reform

Resources in Education, 2001-10 Generating Public Sector Resources to Finance Sustainable Development Stefano Pagiola, 2002 Annotation This specific objective of this book is to explore potential avenues for generating more resources for the public sector to invest in sustainable development

Publications Update World Bank, 1996 Institutional Elements of Tax Design and Reform John McLaren, 2002-12-31 This is a collection of papers that study the constraints on fiscal systems imposed by problems of institutions administration and incentives in developing and post Socialist economies Chapter two focuses on the administration of indirect taxation and provides a case study of indirect taxation in Tanzania This shows how evasion can be documented and quantified through a case study that looks at a particular type of reform aimed at curbing evasion franchising or privatizing the right to tax which has been tried in several Tanzanian towns as a way of collecting vendor fees for access to a public market Chapter three is a theoretical study of evasion under a value added tax VAT and the inefficiencies it can create Chapter four studies the fiscal constraints within the federal politics of Russia while Chapters five and six examine case studies India in fiscal federalism in which the determination of fiscal outcomes is to a considerable degree a matter of bargaining between political entities in the center and in the periphery In both cases it appears that large scale distortions away from an ideal tax system emerge as a result suggesting corruption can be fought by increasing functional specialization within a tax bureaucracy The last chapter looks at the problem of opportunistic taxation particularly regarding the African context and studies various ways in which the problem can be alleviated

Services Trade in the Balkans Constantine Michalopoulos, Vasileios Panousopoulos, 2002 This study aims at providing an overview of policies affecting services trade in seven countries of the Balkan region and stresses the growing importance of services trade The service sectors particularly tourism and transport play an important role in the economies of the Balkan countries The paper finds that on average the countries involved are committed to a liberal trade regime for services and that they have made more commitments to liberalize services in the World Trade Organization WTO than developing countries at comparable levels of development For the future the paper encourages further liberalization at the regional level on a Most Favoured Nation MFN basis as well as policy harmonization with the European Union

European Integration and Income Convergence Carmela Martín, 2001 The prospect of enlarging the European Union EU to Central and Eastern European countries with income levels far below those of present members questions how and when the candidates aspiration to converge towards EU standards of living could possibly be fulfilled To address these questions this paper seeks to assess of the convergence experience of the four less developed EU members i e Spain Portugal Ireland and Greece after joining the EU and to explore what lessons can be learned from that experience The discussion suggests that while theoretically possible there is little empirical reason to fear that European integration would cause economies to diverge Rather than being spontaneous however real convergence would seem to depend crucially on the capacity of countries to tap international technological spillovers particularly through foreign direct investment Macroeconomic stability effective competition on goods and factor markets and a good human capital endowment are essential to harness benefits Nonetheless lingering worries about the possibility that integration would lead to real divergence between countries or regions of Europe has led to the creation of large transfers under the EU s Regional Policy Pending more conclusive evidence of their effectiveness the candidate countries would seem wise to put greater store by those domestic policies than by EU grants to fuel their convergence

Fast Track George M. Guess, 2007 The Former Soviet Union Eastern European area is unique in that an entire region was hit by one external shock that profoundly affected state economies and political systems After the collapse municipal fiscal reform proceeded rapidly in the area Systemic improvements in local taxation budget formulation and implementation have taken place in the past decade at a rapid pace Local governments in these regions have demonstrated important advances in program performance budgeting and medium term expenditure planning Innovative reforms also are evident in financial design and planning of particular programs such as education and health The results of fast track fiscal reforms in local governments can be discerned from the chapters of this timely book that cover LGI research on Armenia Bulgaria Hungary Kyrgyzstan and Romania The case studies focus on such core local financial management topics as revenue and financing e g property management pricing public services e g educational textbook fees and budgeting for results

Measurement and Meaning Estanislao Gacitúa-Marió, Quentin Wodon, 2001 This report consists of a collection of case studies from Latin America combining qualitative and quantitative research methods for the analysis of poverty within a social exclusion framework The first chapter provides an overview of the differences between quantitative and qualitative methods and the gains from using both types of methods in applied work The other chapters are devoted to three case studies on reproductive health in rural Argentina the targeting of social programs in Chile and social exclusion in urban Uruguay Each case study was prepared within the broader context of country specific economic and sectoral work at the World Bank The chapters are 1 Combining Qualitative and Quantitative Methods for Policy Research on Poverty within a Social Exclusion Framework Carine Clert Estanislao Gacitua Mario and Quentin Wodon 2 Reproductive Health in Argentina s Poor Rural Area Estanislao Gacitua Mario Corinne Sianes and Quentin Wodon 3 The Targeting of Government Programs in Chile Carine Clert and Quentin Wodon and 4 Social Exclusion in Urban Uruguay Each chapter contains references Author SLD
