

TRENDS IN INTERNATIONAL ARMS TRANSFERS, 2022

PIETER D. WEZEMAN, JUSTINE GADON AND SIEMON T. WEZEMAN

Imports of major arms by European states rose by 47 per cent between 2013–17 and 2018–22, while the global volume of international arms transfers fell by 5.1 per cent (see figure 1).¹ There were decreases in arms transfers to Africa (–40 per cent), the Americas (–21 per cent), Asia and Oceania (–7.5 per cent) and the Middle East (–8.8 per cent) between the two periods. The five largest arms importers in 2018–22 were India, Saudi Arabia, Qatar, Australia and China. The five largest arms exporters were the United States, Russia, France, China and Germany.

The war in Ukraine had only a limited impact on the total volume of arms transfers in 2018–22, but Ukraine did become a major importer of arms in 2022. In addition, most European states substantially increased their arms import orders and the war will have significant ramifications for future supplier–recipient arms trade relations globally.

From 13 March 2023 the freely accessible SIPRI Arms Transfers Database includes updated data on transfers of major arms for 1950–2022, which replaces all previous data on arms transfers published by SIPRI. Based on the new data, this fact sheet presents global trends in arms exports and arms imports, and highlights selected issues related to transfers of major arms.

Note: The bar graph shows the average annual volume of arms transfers for 5-year periods and the line graph shows the annual totals. The SIPRI trend-indicator value (TIV) is a measure of the volume of international transfers of major arms. The method used for the SIPRI TIV is described on the Arms Transfers Database web page.

Arms Transfers in the Modern World Stephanie G. Neuman, Robert E. Harkavy, 1979 The Afghan Syndrome Bhabani Sen Gupta, 2022-12-28 The Afghan Syndrome 1982 analyses and interprets the 1979 Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan and also examines its effects on America China India Pakistan and other Islamic nations It argues that one of the results was the rise of other centres of economic political and military power outside the superpower spheres The Abongo Abroad John V. Clune, 2017-07-19 Blending African social history with US foreign relations John V Clune documents how ordinary people experienced a major aspect of Cold War diplomacy The book describes how military sponsored international travel especially military training abroad and United Nations peacekeeping deployments in the Sinai and Lebanon altered Ghanaian service members and their families during the three decades after independence in 1957 Military assistance to Ghana included sponsoring training and education in the United States and American policymakers imagined that national modernization would result from the personal relationships Ghanaian service members and their families would forge As an act of faith American military assistance policy with Ghana remained remarkably consistent despite little evidence that military education and training in the United States produced any measurable results Merging newly discovered documents from Ghana s armed forces and declassified sources on American military assistance to Africa this work argues that military sponsored travel made individual Ghanaians outlooks on the world more international just as military assistance planners hoped they would but the Ghanaian state struggled to turn that new identity into political or economic progress World Military History Bibliography Barton Hacker, 2003-06-01 Preclassical and indigenous nonwestern military institutions and methods of warfare are the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of work published 1967 1997 Classical antiquity post Roman Europe and the westernized armed forces of the 20th century although covered receive less systematic attention Emphasis is on historical studies of military organization and the relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles Especially rich in references to the periodical literature the bibliography is divided into eight parts 1 general and comparative topics 2 the ancient world 3 Eurasia since antiquity 4 sub Saharan Africa and Oceania 5 pre Columbian America 6 postcontact America 7 the contemporary nonwestern world and 8 philosophical social scientific natural scientific and other works not primarily historical Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D. Hoyt, 2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective Books in Series ,1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts Series Authors and Titles Congressional Record United States. Congress,1972 U.S. Foreign Relations with the Middle East and North Africa Sanford R. Silverburg,Bernard Reich,1999-07-28 This volume updates and expands the authors 1994 title U S Foreign Relations with the Middle East and North Africa A Bibliography Nearly 3 500 discrete professional or scholarly sources are compiled in this new volume mostly in Western languages Titles are organized by carefully chosen descriptors which reflect general categories while simultaneously focusing as closely as possible on the individual sources Accessibility of the sources is further augmented by both a subject and an author index With an abundance of sources this new volume brings the previous texts up to date maintaining the strengths of the earlier volume The U.s. Government Response To Terrorism William R Farrell,2019-07-11 This book examines the organizational problems faced by the U S government in developing an effective strategy to counter terrorism and presents a detailed history of U S counter terrorist policy since 1972 Dr Farrell offers a working definition of terrorism reviews its international transnational nonterritorial and domestic forms then focuses on the activities of those U S government agencies directly concerned with the prevention or neutralization of terrorism Critical of existing programs and of the fact that counter terrorist activities seem to have a low priority among the duties of the relevant agencies key executives he concludes that the development of a clear reasonable and effective strategy against terrorism has been unnecessarily delayed He is doubtful whether even now a satisfactory arrangement has been achieved Beyond looking strictly at governmental agency responses to terrorism Dr Farrell considers the sociological legal and operational factors that would be brought into play should military forces be employed to quell a terrorist attack and also addresses the nature and extent of the terrorist threat to U S businesses

Embargo Disimplemented Signe Landgren,1989 This study of South African weapon programmes and imports of arms components and technology describes how a desperate buyer and eager suppliers have bent or pre empted embargo rules The author explains the role of multinational corporations and South African investments abroad in the process of disimplementation and reveals the parts played by France West Germany Israel Italy the UK and the USA as sources of military technology She provides useful reference information for those studying the theory of arms embargoes or with a special interest in the build up of the South African military industry Although South Africa has acquired knowledge which allows it a degree of self sufficiency the author highlights the areas of its military industry which remain vulnerable
