Arnhem Land in Colour Robert Edwards, Bruce Guerin, 1970      The Art of Grahame King Sasha Grishin, Libby Bright, Caroline Field, 2005 Grahame King's life as an artist began with his mastery of the new art of colour reproduction as a photolithographic colour etcher in Melbourne in the 1930s. At the same time, study at the National Gallery Art School with George Bell assisted his development as a painter. After war service and travels abroad, King returned to Melbourne with his wife, the sculptor Inge King. The two held a number of joint exhibitions of paintings and sculptures in Australia throughout the 1950s and then from c. 1962 Grahame King turned his attention increasingly towards the art of lithography, becoming a master in this field of printmaking. He has also devoted himself to promoting the art of lithography and printmaking generally through the Print Council of Australia. He is often called Australia's patron saint of printmaking. The book examines his seven decades working as an artist in Melbourne and is lavishly illustrated with colour reproductions throughout.      Names and

Circulating Cultures Amanda Harris, 2014-12-18 Circulating Cultures is an edited book about the transformation of cultural materials through the Australian landscape. The book explores cultural circulation, exchange and transit through events such as the geographical movement of song series across the Kimberley and Arnhem Land, the transformation of Australian Aboriginal dance in the hands of an American choreographer and the indigenisation of symbolic meanings in heavy metal music. Circulating Cultures crosses disciplinary boundaries with contributions from historians, musicologists, linguists and dance historians to depict shifts of cultural materials through time, place and interventions from people. It looks at the way Indigenous and non-Indigenous performing arts have changed through intercultural influence and collaboration.

Semantics : Primes and Universals Anna Wierzbicka, 1996-03-28 This book provides a synthesis of Wierzbicka's theory of meaning which is based on conceptual primitives and semantic universals using empirical findings from a wide range of languages. While addressed primarily to linguists, the book deals with highly topical and controversial issues of central importance to several disciplines including anthropology, psychology and philosophy. Conceptual primitives and semantic universals are the cornerstones of a semantic theory which Anna Wierzbicka has been developing for many years. Semantics: Primes and Universals is a major synthesis of her work presenting a full and systematic exposition of that theory in a non-technical and readable way. It delineates a full set of universal concepts as they have emerged from large scale investigations across a wide range of languages undertaken by the author and her colleagues. On the basis of empirical cross-linguistic studies, it vindicates the old notion of the psychic unity of mankind while at the same time offering a framework for the rigorous description of different languages and cultures. A major synthesis of Anna Wierzbicka's work      Flora Australiensis
