Joseph Conrad born J zef Teodor Konrad Korzeniowski 3 December 1857 3 August 1924 was a Polish British writer regarded as one of the greatest novelists to write in the English language. Though he did not speak English fluently until his twenties he was a master prose stylist who brought a non-English sensibility into English literature. Conrad wrote stories and novels many with a nautical setting that depict trials of the human spirit in the midst of what he saw as an impassive inscrutable universe. Conrad is considered an early modernist though his works contain elements of 19th century realism. His narrative style and anti-heroic characters have influenced numerous authors and many films have been adapted from or inspired by his works. Numerous writers and critics have commented that Conrad's fictional works written largely in the first two decades of the 20th century seem to have anticipated later world events. Writing near the peak of the British Empire Conrad drew among other things on his native Poland's national experiences and on his own experiences in the French and British merchant navies to create short stories and novels that reflect aspects of a European dominated world including imperialism and colonialism and that profoundly explore the human psyche.
