Annual Conference, 2016 Over the course of the long nineteenth century Civilisation was the subject of some of the most prominent public mural paintings and sculptures in Europe and the United States especially those that speculated on the direction of history It also underpinned Western depictions of non Western societies and evaluations of social progress and artistic excellence The essays in this volume explore the ways in which the idea of Civilisation acted as a lens through which Europeans and Americans represented themselves and others how this concept reshaped understandings of historical and artistic development and also how it changed and was put to new uses as the century progressed This collection will prove invaluable to students and academics in both history and art history

Is Art Good for Us? Joli Jensen, 2002 Are the arts good for us This book questions our taken for granted assumptions about the transformational powers of high culture by critiquing an instrumental American heritage of beliefs about the arts Jensen argues that faith in high culture s unproven ability to transform people and society allows social critics to keep faith with the idea of a democratic society while deploring popular culture Employing perspectives from Tocqueville and Dewey she argues that the arts are good but they don t do good Instead of expecting the arts to improve things and blaming the media for ruining them we need to recognize that it is up to us not the arts to make the world a better place
