Europe Unsurpassed in its comprehensiveness and variety the volume draws upon a wealth of authentic primary sources including written accounts contemporary paintings and sculpture and the remains of textiles and other relics A profusion of Warfare in the Middle Ages* Simon John, Nicholas Morton, 2016-04-22 This volume has been created by scholars from a range of disciplines who wish to show their appreciation for Professor John France and to celebrate his career and achievements For many decades Professor France s work has been instrumental in many of the advances made in the fields of crusader studies and medieval warfare He has published widely on these topics including major publications such as Victory in the East A Military History of the First Crusade 1994 and Western Warfare in the Age of the Crusades 1999 This present volume mirrors his interests offering studies upon both areas The fifteen essays cover a wide variety of topics spanning chronologically from the Carolingian period through to the early fourteenth century Some offer new insights upon long contested issues such as the question of whether a new form of cavalry was created by Charles Martel and his successors or the implications of the Mongol defeat at Ayn Jalut Others use innovative methodologies to unlock the potential of various types of source material including manuscript illuminations depicting warfare Templar graffiti German crusading songs and crusading charters Several of the articles open up new areas of debate connected to the history of crusading Malcolm Barber discusses why Christendom did not react decisively to the fall of Acre in 1291 Bernard Hamilton explores how the rising Frankish presence in the Eastern Mediterranean during the central medieval period reshaped Christendom s knowledge and understanding of the North African cultures they encountered In this way this work seeks both to advance debate in core
