A Year In Connemara:

A Year in Connemara Guy St. John Williams, 1998 The History of the Irish Famine Christine Kinealy, Gerard Moran, 2018-09-20 The Great Irish Famine remains one of the most lethal famines in modern world history and a watershed moment in the development of modern Ireland socially politically demographically and culturally In the space of only four years Ireland lost twenty five per cent of its population as a consequence of starvation disease and large scale emigration Certain aspects of the Famine remain contested and controversial for example the issue of the British government s culpability proselytism and the reception of emigrants However recent historiographical focus on this famine has overshadowed the impact of other periods of subsistence crisis both before 1845 and after 1852 This volume seeks to counterbalance the recent historiographical focus on the Great Irish Famine which has overshadowed the impact of other periods of subsistence crisis both before 1845 and after 1852 As occurred during the Great Famine they often resulted in increased levels of evictions emigration disease and death although the scale was lower While the Great Famine brought major economic social and demographic changes large areas of the country retained pre famine structures with many communities continuing to have a subsistence existence and consequently regular crop failures and famines These lesser known famines are examined in this volume along with the causes and why they did not achieve the scale of the Great Famine The Parliamentary Debates (official Report). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1912 Ireland, Industrial and Agricultural Ireland. Department of Agriculture and Fisheries, 1901 Listening to the Wind Tim Robinson, 2019-09-10 A mapmaker s vivid journey through the geography ecology and history of Ireland s Connemara region Here is Connemara experienced at a walker s pace From cartographer Tim Robinson comes the second title in the Seedbank series a breathtakingly intimate exploration of one beloved place s geography ecology and history We begin with the earth right in front of his boots as Robinson unveils swaths of fiontarnach fall leaf decay We peer from the edge of the cliff where Robinson s house stands on rickety stilts We closely examine an overgrown patch of heather a flush of sphagnum moss And so footstep by footstep moment by moment Robinson takes readers deep into this storied Irish landscape from the quibbling contentious terrain of Bogland to the shorelines of Inis N to the towering peaks of Twelve Pins Just as wild and essential as the countryside itself are its colorful characters friends and legends and neighbors alike a skeletal story filled sheep farmer an engineer who builds bridges both physical and metaphorical a playboy prince and cricket champion and an enterprising botanist who meets an unexpected demise Within a landscape lie all other things and Robinson rejoices in the universal magic of becoming one with such a place joining with the sound of the past the language we breathe and our frontage onto the natural world Situated at the intersection of mapmaking and mythmaking Listening to the Wind is at once learned and intimate elegiac and magnificent an exceptionally rich book about one place which is also about the whole world Robert Macfarlane Visitors to Connemara that expanse of stony beauty in the west of Ireland are often struck by its stillness This collection of essays succeeds in the difficult task of staying true to the verities of a place on to which so many fantasies have been projected The Guardian Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1912 Contains the 4th session of the 28th Parliament through the session of the Parliament Littell's Living Age Eliakim Littell,Robert S.
