Colette Complete Claudine:

The Complete Claudine Colette, 2001-09-05 The stories that inspired the film Colette directed by Wash Westmoreland and starring Keira Knightley Colette prodded by her first husband Willy began her writing career with Claudine at School which catapulted the young author into instant sensational success Among the most autobiographical of Colette's works these four novels are dominated by the child woman Claudine whose strength humor and zest for living make her seem almost a symbol for the life force Janet Flanner described these books as amazing writing on the almost girlish search for the absolute of happiness in physical love recorded by a literary brain always wide awake on the pillow Colette, 1956 The Complete Claudine Colette, 1984 A collection of the early and most autobiographical works of Colette The Complete Claudine Colette, 2001

Katherine Mansfield's Women Gerri Kimber, Aimee Gasston, 2025-08-31 Katherine Mansfield's astute eye for power imbalances including those that are gendered is apparent across her fiction Her working life was also fraught with the types of material needs set out by Virginia Woolf in A Room of One's Own published after Mansfield's death in 1929 Although the young Mansfield decided she could not be a suffragette in a letter of 17 September 1908 to Garnet Trowell her work often addresses social injustices with portrayals of characters who are hemmed in by circumstance and reaching toward a sense of personal freedom and authenticity This volume comprises a number of essays by Mansfield specialists on the theme of Katherine Mansfield's Women in addition to a diverse range of creative writing and a reassessment of J D Fergusson's enigmatic portrait of a woman titled Poise By looking at the place of women in both her personal writings and fiction it explores the textual and cultural aspects of Katherine Mansfield and the female experience in all its contexts

The Force of Beauty Holly Grout, 2015-05-13 The market for commercial beauty products exploded in Third Republic France with a proliferation of goods promising to erase female imperfections and perpetuate an aesthetic of femininity that conveyed health and respectability While the industry's meteoric growth helped to codify conventional standards of womanhood The Force of Beauty goes beyond the narrative of beauty culture as a tool for sociopolitical subjugation to show how it also targeted women as important consumers in major markets and created new avenues by which they could express their identities and challenge or reinforce gender norms As cosmetics companies and cultural media from magazines to novels to cinema urged women to aspire to commercial standards of female perfection beauty evolved as a goal to be pursued rather than a biological inheritance The products and techniques that enabled women to embody society's feminine ideal also taught them how to fashion their bodies into objects of desire and thus offered a subversive tool of self-expression Holly Grout explores attempts by commercial beauty culture to reconcile a standard of respectability with female sexuality as well as its efforts to position French women within the global phenomenon of changing views on modern womanhood Grout draws on a wide range of primary sources hygiene manuals professional and legal debates about the right to fabricate and distribute medicines advertisements for beauty products and contemporary fiction and works of art to explore how French women navigated changing views on femininity Her seamless integration of gender studies with business history aesthetics and the history of medicine results in a textured and complex study of the relationship between the politics of womanhood and the politics of beauty Collected Stories of Colette Colette,1983 100 stories dating from 1908 to 1945 Mothering the Mind Ruth Perry,Martine Watson Brownley,1984 Recognised period specialists look at a wide variety of nurturing relationships between men and women both sexual and platonic Mothering is examined as a component of marriage and as a sustaining force in less traditional but equally creative relationships In some instances actual mothers provide the encouragement and unconditional approvals that are hallmarks of the mothering role Crucial questions are posed such as how and why did these attachments evolve Are such relationships mutually beneficial The book offers a balanced feminist approach and perspective and is an important contribution not only to the areas of biography and psychoanalytical criticism but also to women s studies Break of Day Colette,1966 Break of day The novel s theme the renunciation of love and the return to an independent existence supported and enriched by the beauty and peace of nature grows out of Collette s own period of self assessment in the middle of her life La Maison de Claudine Sidoni Gabrielle Colette,1922 Reckless Appetites Jacqueline Deval,1993 Food love and revenge form the basis of charming debut novel where tales of the darkness lurking in the human heart mingle with literary anecdotes and period recipes L J review Claudine and Annie Colette,1963 In this final novel in Colette s famous series it is Claudine s friend Annie who tells the story in the form of a private diary Claudine is happily settled with her adored husband Renaud spending her time giving wide and worldly advice to despairing Annie whose life with the boring and dominating Alain is set to dramatically change With the help of Claudine Annie takes steps to empower her own life a life away from her husband Through Colette s intoxicating series of novels emerges a portrait of Claudine an intelligent modern woman whose life is always honest passionate and inspiring Sequels Janet G.
