Collaborative Programs In Indigenous Communities:

Collaborative Programs in Indigenous Communities Barbara Harrison,2001 This book is an important reference for developing collaborative programs between indigenous groups and outside experts The author outlines the process of program design data collection analysis and interpretation for formal or pilot programs The case study materials provide useful detail for developing projects in education economic development social services and health

Indigenous Peoples and the Collaborative Stewardship of Nature Anne Ross,2011 Involving Indigenous peoples and traditional knowledge into natural resource management produces more equitable and successful outcomes Unfortunately argue Anne Ross and co authors even many progressive methods fail to produce truly equal partnerships This book offers a comprehensive and global overview of the theoretical methodological and practical dimensions of co management The authors critically evaluate the range of management options that claim to have integrated Indigenous peoples and knowledge and then outline an innovative alternative model of co management the Indigenous Stewardship Model They provide detailed case studies and concrete details for application in a variety of contexts Broad in coverage and uniting robust theoretical insights with applied detail this book is ideal for scholars and students as well as for professionals in resource management and policy

Alaska Native Political Leadership and Higher Education Michael Jennings,2004-06-03 Through an in depth study of Alaskan indigenous communities Jennings explores the relationship between land and education He reveals how Euro American institutions attempt to redefine indigenous understandings of land and spirituality to make them conform to those in the dominant society The author proposes educational agendas that are components of native sovereignty with their distinctive spiritual intellectual and material relationships to land This book is valuable for educational policymakers and instructors in education anthropology and Native American studies

Methods in Community-Based Participatory Research for Health Barbara A. Israel,2005-07-07 Methods in Community Based Participatory Research for Health Written by distinguished experts in the field this book shows how researchers practitioners and community partners can work together to establish and maintain equitable partnerships using a Community Based Participatory Research CBPR approach to increase knowledge and improve health and well being of the communities involved What distinguishes CBPR from other approaches to research is the active engagement of all partners in the process This book provides a comprehensive and thorough presentation of CBPR study designs specific data collection and analysis methods and innovative partnership structures and process methods This book informs students practitioners researchers and community members about methods and applications needed to conduct CBPR in the widest range of research areas including social determinants of health health disparities health promotion community interventions disease management health services and environmental health This book is a major contribution to the public health field The editors are some of our most outstanding leaders in community based participatory research From the Foreword by David Satcher M D Ph D interim president Morehouse School of Medicine 16th U S Surgeon General Missing from the emerging field of university community partnerships is a broad based discussion of methods for partnership formation and sustainability This must have edited volume is an important contribution to building the field Based on federally funded collaborative research with multiple community stakeholders it offers readers across disciplines and sectors a set of conceptual and practical tools and case materials for application and teaching Jean J Schensul Ph D senior scientist and founding director Institute for Community Research Transforming the City Marion Orr,2007 A path breaking book the first to examine the evolution of community organizing in U S cities While embracing mobilization the contributors acknowledge the challenges inherent in globalization and the norms and values that shape contemporary American culture Still they reaffirm that community organizing has an important role to play as part of a broader progressive movement Forgotten Places Thomas A. Lyson,William W. Falk,1993 Ethnobiology in Human Welfare Sudhanshu Kumar Jain,1996 Guide to Funding for International and Foreign Programs ,2004 Indigenous Peoples and Diabetes Mariana Kawall Leal Ferreira,Gretchen Chesley Lang,2006 Indigenous Peoples and Diabetes is a bold attempt to reframe the meaning of diabetes mellitus as a socio political disorder from the perspective of Indigenous Peoples community workers medical anthropologists and health professionals working and or living in North America Latin America the Arctic Australia and the Indian Ocean The anthology discusses the effects of social history on the etiology and epidemiology of type 2 diabetes within Indigenous experiences of cultural expansionism and colonial occupation Indigenous narratives about the right to food health emotional experience and the importance of networks of solidarity provide reflective critiques on community wellness empowering individuals to regain control of their health spiritual knowledge and emotional liberty The book is a paradigm breaking endeavor because it challenges the widespread assumption that Indigenous Peoples all over the planet are inherently susceptible to sicken and die from degenerative ailments such as diabetes because of their faulty genotype poor dietary habits and sedentary lifestyle Instead the creative assemblage of chapters shifts the medical gaze from a potentially diseased body to a diseased colonial and post colonial history of genocide practiced against Indigenous Peoples to this day Innovative programs to combat the diabetes epidemic and promote physical and emotional wellness are discussed in detail such as the Mino Mijjim Good Food for the Future program on the White Earth Reservation in Minnesota the Kahnawake School Diabetes Prevention Project developed in the Kanien keha ka Mohawk community of Kahnawake near Montreal Canada and the Cultural Rebuilding Project at the Potawat Health Village in northern California The authors are inspired by a strong commitment to a liberation medicine and to the belief that access to good food respect for cultural traditions and integrative therapies are basic human rights This book is part of the Ethnographic Studies in Medical Anthropology Series edited by Pamela J Stewart and Andrew Strathern Department of Anthropology University of Pittsburgh E xtremely valuable for anybody who is interested in health issues of indigenous peoples in North America an important addition to the ethnographic literature North Dakota Quarterly A n innovative and important attempt to reframe the meaning of diabetes as a sociopolitical pathology among indigenous peoples CHOICE Magazine Asian Forum on Corporate Social Responsibility Felipe B. Alfonso, Branka A. Jikich, Prakhar Sharma, 2004 Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System for Fiscal Year 1970 Illinois. Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System.
