Cybercities Reader:

The Cybercities Reader Stephen Graham, 2004 Providing the most comprehensive international and interdisciplinary analysis yet of the relationships between cities urban life and new technologies this informative book incorporates detailed discussions of cybercity history theory economic processes mobilities physical forms social and cultural worlds digital divides public domains strategies politics and futures The book includes coverage of post modern technoculture virtual reality and the body global city economies urban surveillance e commerce teleworking community informatics digital architecture urban technology strategies and the role of cities and new technologies in the war on terrorism The first interdisciplinary book to address the complex interrelationships between the use and application of electronic technologies and practices and processes of contemporary metropolitan life this key text adopts a uniquely international perspective Detailed case studies include virtual cities in Amsterdam Internet cabins in Lima back offices in Jamaica and smart highways in Melbourne An excellent teaching aid with part section and individual extract introductions this outstanding book provides an up to date snapshot of how policies for cities and cyberspaces are being combined across the world The Urban Design Reader

Michael Larice, Elizabeth Macdonald, 2013-05-07 The second edition of The Urban Design Reader draws together the very best of classic and contemporary writings to illuminate and expand the theory and practice of urban design Nearly 50 generous selections include seminal contributions from Howard Le Corbusier Lynch and Jacobs to more recent writings by Waldheim Koolhaas and Sorkin Following the widespread success of the first edition of The Urban Design Reader this updated edition continues to provide the most important historical material of the urban design field but also introduces new topics and selections that address the myriad challenges facing designers today The six part structure of the second edition guides the reader through the history theory and practice of urban design The reader is initially introduced to those classic writings that provide the historical precedents for city making into the twentieth century Part Two introduces the voices and ideas that were instrumental in establishing the foundations of the urban design field from the late 1950s up to the mid 1990s These authors present a critical reading of the design professions and offer an alternative urban design agenda focused on vital and lively places The authors in Part Three provide a range of urban design rationales and strategies for reinforcing local physical identity and the creation of memorable places These selections are largely describing the outcomes of mid century urban design and voicing concerns over the placeless quality of contemporary urbanism The fourth part of the Reader explores key issues in urban design and development Ideas about sprawl density community health public space and everyday life are the primary focus here Several new selections in this part of the book also highlight important international development trends in the Middle East and China Part Five presents environmental challenges faced by the built environment professions today including recent material on landscape urbanism sustainability and urban resiliency The final part examines professional practice and current debates in the field where urban designers work what they do their roles

their fields of knowledge and their educational development The section concludes with several position pieces and debates on the future of urban design practice This book provides an essential resource for students and practitioners of urban design drawing together important but widely dispersed writings Part and section introductions are provided to assist readers in understanding the context of the material summary messages impacts of the writing and how they fit into the larger picture of the urban design field

Sustainable Urban Development Reader Stephen M. Wheeler, Timothy Beatley, 2014-10-03 Building on the success of its second edition the third edition of the Sustainable Urban Development Reader provides a generous selection of classic and contemporary readings giving a broad introduction to this topic It begins by tracing the roots of the sustainable development concept in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries before presenting readings on a number of dimensions of the sustainability concept Topics covered include land use and urban design transportation ecological planning and restoration energy and materials use economic development social and environmental justice and green architecture and building All sections have a concise editorial introduction that places the selection in context and suggests further reading Additional sections cover tools for sustainable development international sustainable development visions of sustainable community and case studies from around the world The book also includes educational exercises for individuals university classes or community groups and an extensive list of recommended readings The anthology remains unique in presenting a broad array of classic and contemporary readings in this field each with a concise introduction placing it within the context of this evolving discourse The Sustainable Urban Development Reader presents an authoritative overview of the field using original sources in a highly readable format for university classes in urban studies environmental studies the social sciences and related fields It also makes a wide range of sustainable urban planning related material available to the public in a clear and accessible way forming an indispensable resource for anyone interested in the future of urban environments

The Political Twittersphere in India Shekh Moinuddin, 2019-01-29 The book investigates political re tweets that reveal the nature and patterns of politics and digital political revolution in India The re tweets are made by Indian politicians at various capacities in order to communicate to followers which shaped the political discourse in form of response activism and technology The book is based on interdisciplinary approaches wherein geography interfaces with political cultural social economic and social media studies The book is mapping patterns of spatial politics through Twitter which revolutionized the digital politics in India It discusses and answers the questions Why do politicians use Twitter and other social networking sites When do politicians make re tweets Is Twitter all about official The book triggers questions about the politics of gadgets To what extent are politics inseparable from re tweets The book adheres the inevitable role of technology particularly of Twitter in day to day spatial reporting in the shape of politics culture identity ideology norms and empiricism This book is the result of the research project Mapping Political Tweets The Digital Political Revolution in India 2015 16 funded by Kalindi College University of Delhi New Delhi KC GB 3349 a The book appeals to research scientists graduate students and practitioners in the fields of political science media representation communication and those who have interests to investigate the linkages between different parts of geography and social science with communication technology

Information and Communication Technologies, Society and Human Beings: Theory and Framework (Festschrift in honor of Gunilla Bradley) Haftor, Darek, Mirijamdotter, Anita, 2010-07-31 Information and Communication Technologies Society and Human Beings Theory and Framework addresses the extensive area of effects of ICT on human beings and the interaction between ICT individuals organizations and society This premier reference source features contributions from over 45 distinguished researchers from around the world each presenting high quality research on Social Informatics Human Computer Interaction Organizational Behavior and Macro ergonomics This unique publication is perfect for students teachers researchers engineers practitioners managers policy makers and media alike

Digital Shutdowns and Social Media Shekh Moinuddin, 2021-03-10 This book offers a spatial insights on the social mediasphere in the context of digital shutdowns and reflects the dimensions of political economy and of social media in general Internet shutdowns have been found to be more prevalent in developing countries than in developed countries with India leading in Internet shutdowns in the world Internet shutdowns have occurred in India for several reasons mainly to hinder the spreading of information through social media this is discussed in detail along with political motives behind this and how this can conflict with government policies such as the flagship program Digital India which is ostensibly meant to improve the infrastructure and expansion of digital information throughout the country This book suggests new dimensions in the digital spatiality Furthermore the digital space is defined and discussed including its role and how this might be reflected in concepts around spatiality and spaces More concretely the book considers the following questions How is social media reflected in spatial sciences How does the space differ from more tangible spaces such as the hydrosphere or atmosphere How do computer mobile phone screens behave as a space place in the context of behavioural sciences How is this reflected in what is shaping and reshaping the spatiality of digital gadgets Do digital gadgets change the socialization process that is often considered a path towards how we develop in society How do internet shutdowns affect the political economy and what patterns can be seen in how individuals companies and the internet industry in particular react to these shutdowns in India

Archis, 2004 Future Interaction Design II Pertti Saariluoma, Hannakaisa Isomäki, 2009-04-28 The perspectives and techniques used in human computer interaction design practice and research are broadening This book looks at emerging approaches which are likely to contribute to the discipline in near future The underlying idea is that human character rather than technology should determine the nature of interaction The concept of interaction design covers this range of concerns relevant to enabling quality design Each chapter emphasizes alternative perspectives on interaction and new concepts to help researchers and practitioners relate to alternative design approaches and opportunities This second volume provides a wider perspective from both a scientific and geographic outlook New topics such as psychological design processes

gerotechnology modelling e learning and subconscious experiences are discussed from a team of international authors This book will be of considerable value to those seeking innovative perspectives upon designing and ensuring effective interaction between humans and technology

Urban Confrontations in Literature and Social Science, 1848-2001 Edward J. Ahearn, 2016-02-11 In an innovative contribution to the challenging of disciplinary boundaries Edward J Ahearn juxtaposes works of literature with the writings of social scientists to discover how together they illuminate city life in ways that neither can accomplish separately Ahearn s argument spans from the second half of the nineteenth century in Western Europe to the present day United States and encompasses a wide range of literary genres and sociological schools For example Charles Baudelaire s essays on the city are viewed alongside the work of Emile Durkheim and Georg Simmel Bertolt Brecht s Jungle of Cities heightens the arguments of Louis Wirth and Robert Park Richard Wright s Native Son and Saul Bellow s The Adventures of Augie March are re visioned in tandem with works by William Julius Wilson and others Herman Melville s Bartleby the Scrivener poses a challenge to James Q Wilson s Bureaucracy Toni Morrison s historical novel Jazz is buttressed by the career of Robert Moses and the revisionist work of historians Hilary Ballon and Kenneth T Jackson and Don DeLillo s Cosmopolis comes into brilliant focus in the light of arguments on world cybercities by David Harvey Saskia Sassen and Manuel Cassels Resisting the temptation to ignore contradictions for the sake of interpretation Ahearn instead offers the reader a view of the modern city as complex as his subject matter Here the methodologies and knowledge generated by the social sciences are both complemented and subverted by the experience of city life as portrayed in literature With its diverse narrative tactics and shifting points of view which can be as disorienting to the reader as a foreign city is to an arriving immigrant literature reinforces the importance of method and outlook in the social sciences Ultimately Ahearn suggests neither literature nor the social sciences can capture the experience of urban misery

Environment and Planning, 2005 Journal of urban planning and design Publishes research in the application of formal methods methods models and theories to spatial problems involving the built environment and the spatial structure of cities and regions Includes the application of computers to planning and design in particular the use of shape grammars artificial intelligence and morphological methods to buildings and towns the use of multimedia and GIS in urban and regional planning and the development of ideas concerning the virtual city

Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya Ross King, 2008-08-07 Arguably Southeast Asia's most spectacular city Kuala Lumpur widely known as KL has just celebrated fifty years as the national capital of Malaysia But KL now has a very different twin in Putrajaya the country's new administrative capital Where KL is a diverse cosmopolitan multiracial metropolis Putrajaya fulfills an elitest vision of a Malay Muslim utopia KL's multicultural richness is reflected in the brilliance and diversity of its architecture and urban spaces Putrajaya by contrast is an architectural homage to an imagined Middle East The purity of Putrajaya throws the cosmopolitan diversity of Kuala Lumpur into sharp relief and the tension between the two places reflects the rifts that run through Malaysian society In this copiously illustrated book Ross King considers what form of metropolis the Kuala Lumpur Putrajaya region might foreshadow arguing that signs of this future city are to be sought in the collision points between the utopian dreams of imagined futures and the reality of purposely forgotten pasts Drawing on postcolonial studies media studies and critical social theory Kuala Lumpur and Putrajaya makes a significant contribution to architecture urban planning urban design and Malaysian politics and society

Exploring Collaborative Urban Strategies Marisa Carmona, Marinda Schoonraad, 2004 The opening of the economy to external markets has brought about the re assessment of the significance of large spatial agglomerations and the accentuation of polarization at national scale The dual movement of centralization and de concentration processes inwards and outwards contributes to urban sprawl beyond the limits of metropolitan areas as has been demonstrated in Shanghai Jakarta Delta Metropolis Mexico City Sao Paulo and Santiago Its consequences for urban structure and urban morphology are immense and complex and it has fostered social fragmentation of space changing location opportunities land uses and centralities The importance of transport and communication is accentuated large intra and inter urban connectivity are generated together with the generation of articulated networks corridors nodes with impact in land values New lifestyles new urban environments and new form of governance emerge and need to be theoretically and empirically underpinned

Action Research and New Media Greg Hearn, 2009 Action research is now a well documented and well accepted research methodology Moreover it is especially appropriate in new media research where innovation and change are continual and where processes and outcomes are usually not predictable and often involve fuzzy and subjective human elements This book offers a systematic in depth academic overview of the application of action research methods to the field of new media In this space it is the first publication of its kind in what is a new but rapidly growing field The book is divided into two sections Introducing the two key concepts namely new media and action research the first section describes the underlying principles processes questions methods and tools that are relevant to an action research approach to new media inquiry This is followed by a deeper exploration of three advanced innovative approaches to action research and new media ethnographic network and anticipatory action research The third and final section presents four case studies and their individual applications of action research in different new media contexts

Environment & Planning ,2009 Did Someone Say Participate? Markus Miessen, Shumon Basar, 2006 A report from the front lines of cultural activism that looks at spatial practitioners who actively trespass into neighboring or alien fields of knowledge Journal of Anthropological Research ,2017 Better Living Through Reality TV Laurie Ouellette, James Hay, 2008-01-29 Asserts that reality television is a cultural technology through which individuals and groups have come to monitor motivate improve transform and protect themselves in the name of freedom enterprise and personal responsibility
