Driving While Black:

Driving While Black Gretchen Sorin, 2020-02-11 The basis of a major PBS documentary by Gretchen Sorin and Ric Burns first airing October 13 2020 at 9PM ET this revelatory history shows how the automobile fundamentally changed African American life It s hardly a secret that mobility has always been limited if not impossible for African Americans Before the Civil War masters confined their slaves to their property while free black people found themselves regularly stopped questioned and even kidnapped Restrictions on movement before Emancipation carried over in different forms into Reconstruction and beyond for most of the 20th century many white Americans felt blithely comfortable denying their black countrymen the right to travel freely on trains and buses Yet it became more difficult to shackle someone who was cruising along a highway at 45 miles per hour In Driving While Black the acclaimed historian Gretchen Sorin reveals how the car the ultimate symbol of independence and possibility has always held particular importance for African Americans allowing black families to evade the many dangers presented by an entrenched racist society and to enjoy in some measure the freedom of the open road She recounts the creation of a parallel unseen world of black motorists who relied on travel guides black only businesses and informal communications networks to keep them safe From coast to coast mom and pop guest houses and tourist homes beauty parlors and even large hotels including New York s Hotel Theresa the Hampton House in Miami or the Dunbar Hotel in Los Angeles as well as night clubs and restaurants like New Orleans Dooky Chase and Atlanta s Paschal s fed travelers and provided places to stay the night At the heart of Sorin s story is Victor and Alma Green s famous Green Book a travel guide begun in 1936 which helped grant black Americans that most basic American rite the family vacation As Sorin demonstrates black travel guides and black only businesses encouraged a new way of resisting oppression Black Americans could be confident of finding welcoming establishments as they traveled for vacation or for business Civil Rights workers learned where to stay and where to eat in the South between marches and protests As Driving While Black reminds us the Civil Rights Movement was just that a movement of black people and their allies in defiance of local law and custom At the same time she shows that the car despite the freedoms it offered brought black people up against new challenges from segregated ambulance services to unwarranted traffic stops and the racist violence that too often followed Interwoven with Sorin s own family history and enhanced by dozens of little known images Driving While Black charts how the automobile fundamentally reshaped African American life and opens up an entirely new view onto one of the most important issues of our time

Driving While Black Kelvin R. Davis, 2001 Driving While Black by Association J. J. Gathman, 2021-05-15

When I was 17 years old my friends and I had an encounter with the police that forever changed my perspective on humanity As life altering as this experience was it was only the first of more than a dozen incidents of racially motivated targeting by law enforcement that I would experience over the years As a White kid from an integrated neighborhood living just blocks away from a district with one of the highest crime rates in Chicago I found myself walking both sides of the color line I was often in situations where everyone was Black but me This gave me an uncommon perspective that has informed many things in my life Most relevant to today s national dialogue I personally experienced smothering racial oppression at the hands of law enforcement My friends and I felt the physical pain of violent assaults the life changing consequences of false arrests and so much more as a result of racial profiling by the police Driving While Black by Association is a collection of first hand accounts This is a work of autobiographical narrative nonfiction which spans almost 18 years of my life It details thirteen incidents involving racially motivated police misconduct with each episode presented as a self contained story Taken together these anecdotes paint a picture of racial oppression from an atypical point of view Black and Mainstream Press' Framing of Racial Profiling Mia Moody-Ramirez,Mia Nodeen Moody,2008-05-15 Racial profiling has been a controversial topic in civil rights dialogue for centuries beginning with the Negro Free Registry in the slave era emerging again with the 1980s War on Drugs and climaxing with the 2000 War on Terror This study offers an in depth overview of the evolution of racial profiling in the United States throughout these diverse periods It specifically offers an in depth examination of how mainstream and Black press newspapers framed the phenomena of racial profiling three years before and after the September 11 terrorist attacks It offers readers a peek at the various types of frames ethnic groups and sources that journalists chose in their quest to cover the issue Moreover it defines compares and contrasts the differences in Black and Mainstream media s coverage of the issue and the unique purpose that each media form serves Finally this work provides a brilliant example of a frame analysis carried to its full extent Black Travel Writing Isabel Kalous,2021-11-05 What does it mean for Black diasporic writers to travel to Africa Focusing on the period between the 1990s and 2010s Isabel Kalous examines autobiographical narratives of travel to Africa by African American and Black British authors She places the texts within the long tradition of Black diasporic engagement with the continent scrutinizes the significance of Black mobility and demonstrates that travel writing serves as a means to negotiate questions of identity belonging history and cultural memory To provide a framework for the analyses of contemporary narratives her study outlines the emergence development and key characteristics of the multifaceted genre of Black travel writing Authors discussed include among others Saidiya Hartman Barack Obama and Caryl Phillips Ebony ,1999-09 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Driving While Black David A. Harris,1999 Discusses discriminatory racial profiling and police abuse against African Americans including the disproportionate number of traffic stops of African Americans Letters in Black and White Winkfield Twyman, Jr.,Jennifer Richmond,2023-05-23 Unsatisfied with the relentless pace and narrow constraints of social media two Americans Winkfield Twyman Jr and Jennifer Richmond a black man and a white woman rediscovered the art of letter writing and maintained a years long correspondence about race in the United States In Letters in Black and White they share for the first time their exchange in full charting their journey from wary strangers to trusted confidants At a time when many Americans are dazed confused and angered by the country's current state of race relations they offer a model not only for having needed but difficult conversations but also for a better way forward Marked by well crafted turns of phrase sharp wit and sober reflection they do not rely on those fashionable words and phrases that have been drained of real meaning or are hopelessly saddled with excessive baggage such as antiracism white fragility and allyship Rather on topics ranging from the murder of George Floyd and the launch of the 1619 Project to the debate over reparations and the nature of elite black organizations like Jack and Jill of America they tell the truth as they see it in their own uncorrupted language speaking for no one but themselves Particularly critical of both the ideological battles that fuel media programming and entrench political rivalries and the noble sounding social and cultural projects that fail time and again to offer any meaningful solutions they identify productive ways to unify across our differences ways to find our common humanity and to mend America's divided soul Ultimately they offer an inspirational message of hope and optimism for all one that does not allow the past to define our present or predetermine our future

Driving While Black Kenneth Meeks,2010-03-10 A practical handbook for people who want to be safe and do something Racial profiling does happen And while cases where victims find themselves looking down the barrel of a policeman's gun make the six o'clock news dozens of less extreme yet troubling examples occur every day Cabs that whiz by only to be seen stopping for safer looking people just up the block being asked for multiple pieces of identification when making purchases with credit cards being followed around a department store by salespeople and security while never being asked if they need any assistance being detained for hours and extensively searched in an airport or train station Driving While Black clearly defines the system officially known as CARD class age race dress and offers advice about how to handle potentially life threatening situations with the police as well as recourse for readers who suspect their civil rights have been denied due to racial profiling A book written to save lives Driving While Black is not just for people of color but for anyone who likes to wear a baseball cap baggy jeans sneakers and a tee shirt and finds they are often treated like a suspect

Cultural Analysis, Cultural Studies, and the Law Austin D. Sarat,Jonathan Simon,2003-07-03 This interdisciplinary collection demonstrates the purchase of cultural studies frameworks for thinking about legal questions beyond the reach of the Law Economics framework

Driving While Black Stephanie A. Geiger, 2002 America Made Me a Black Man Boyah J. Farah, 2022-09-06
NAACP Image Award Nominee NPR Best Book of 2022 A searing memoir of American racism from a Somalian American who survived hardships in his birth country only to experience firsthand the dehumanization of Blacks in his adopted land the United States No one told me about America Born in Somalia and raised in a valley among nomads Boyah Farah grew up with a code of male bravado that helped him survive deprivation disease and civil war Arriving in America he believed that the code that had saved him would help him succeed in this new country But instead of safety and freedom Boyah found systemic racism police brutality and intense prejudice in all areas of life including the workplace He learned firsthand not only what it meant to be an African in America but what it means to be African American The code of masculinity that shaped generations of men in his family could not prepare Farah for the painful realities of life in the United States Lyrical yet unsparing America Made Me a Black Man is the first book length examination of American racism from an African outsider s perspective With a singular poetic voice brimming with imagery Boyah challenges us to face difficult truths about the destructive forces that threaten Black lives and attempts to heal a fracture in Black men s identity Yale Journal of Law & the Humanities ,2001 Fifteen Cents on the Dollar Louise Story, Ebony Reed, 2024-06-18 A sweeping narrative history of Black wealth and the economic discrimination embedded in America s financial system The early 2020s will long be known as a period of racial reflection In the wake of the police killing of George Floyd Americans of all backgrounds joined together in historic demonstrations in the streets discussions in the workplace and conversations at home about the financial gaps that remain between white and Black Americans This deeply investigated book shows the scores of setbacks that have held the Black white wealth gap in place from enslavement to redlining to banking discrimination and ultimately the reversals that occurred in the mid 2020s as the push for racial equity became a polarized political debate Fifteen Cents on the Dollar follows the lives of four Black Millennial professionals and a banking company founded with the stated mission of closing the Black white wealth gap That company known as Greenwood a reference to the historic Black Wall Street district in Tulsa Oklahoma generated immense excitement and hope among people looking for new ways of business that might lead to greater equity But the twists and turns of Greenwood s journey also raise tough questions about what equality really means

Seasoned journalist academics Louise Story and Ebony Reed present a nuanced portrait of Greenwood's founders the entertainment executive Ryan Glover the Grammy winning rapper Michael Render better known as Killer Mike and the Civil Rights leader and two term Atlanta mayor Andrew Young along with new revelations about their lives careers and families going back to the Civil War Equally engaging are the stories of the lesser known individuals a female tech employee from rural North Carolina trying to make it in a big city a rising leader at the NAACP whose father is in prison an owner of a BBQ stand in Atlanta fighting to keep his home and a Black man in a biracial marriage grappling with his roots when his father is shot by the police In chronicling these staggering injustices Fifteen Cents on the Dollar shows why so little progress has been made on the wealth gap and provides insights Americans should consider if they want lasting change
