The Arabian Desert in English Travel Writing Since 1950 Jenny Walker,2022-12-30 Broadly this book is about the Arabian desert as the locus of exploration by a long tradition of British travellers that includes T E Lawrence and Wilfred Thesiger more specifically it is about those who since 1950 have followed in their literary footsteps In analysing modern works covering a land greater than the sum of its geographical parts the discussion identifies outmoded tropes that continue to impinge upon the perception of the Middle East today while recognising that the laboured binaries of East and West desert and sown noble and savage have outrun their course Where however only a barren legacy of latent Orientalism may have been expected the author finds instead a rich seam of writing that exhibits diversity of purpose and insight contributing to contemporary discussions on travel and tourism intercultural representation and environmental awareness By addressing a lack of scholarly attention towards recent additions to the genre this study illustrates for the benefit of students of travel literature or indeed anyone interested in Arabia how desert writing under the emerging configurations of globalisation postcolonialism and ecocriticism acts as a microcosm of the kinds of ethical and emotional dilemmas confronting today s travel writers in the world s most extreme regions

The book is organised into six sections each with an introduction by the editors on classical sociology of law structural functionalism and systems theory critical approaches interpretive approaches postmodernism and pluralism and globalisation and a conclusion that discusses the relationship between law and sociology Each of the chapters is written by a specialist who reviews the literature and discusses how the approach can be used in researching different topics

Representation and Decoration in a Postmodern Age Alfred Hornung, Rüdiger Kunow, 2009 The contributions to this volume by European and American critics analyze different forms of representation and decoration in twentieth century American literature and the arts from the critical perspective of a postmodern age They range from theoretical discussions of non representational art forms and the defense of literary representation against deconstructive practices to the manifestation of political representation in postcolonial works The displacement of decorative elements in modern art and the resurgence of decoration in postmodernism is the focus of articles on modern American and contemporary ethnic painters as well as on American postcards The interaction of representative and decorative techniques provides the basis for new readings of literary texts and for the analysis of technological intelligence
