Beginnings Edward W. Said, 1985 Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01
The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline. As with any body of scholarship, various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it. Irene R. Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field. Accessible and jargon-free, the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid, concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years. Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume. Their work is organized into three parts. In Part I, forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose. The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address. Part II focuses on individual theorists. It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars, not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I. This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context. Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory. It identifies significant complex terms, places them in context, and explains their origins and use. Accessibility is a key feature of the work. By avoiding jargon, providing mini-bibliographies, and cross-referencing throughout, Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture.

Permanent Beginning Yitzhak Lewis, 2020-03-01 Situates a Hasidic master in the context of his time, demonstrating his formative influence on Jewish literary modernity. The Hasidic leader R. Nachman of Braslav (1772-1810) has held a place in the Jewish popular imagination for more than two centuries. Some see him as the self-proclaimed Messiah, others as the forerunner of modern Jewish literature. Existing studies struggle between these dueling readings, largely ignoring questions of aesthetics and politics in his work. A Permanent Beginning lays out a new paradigm for understanding R. Nachman's thought and writing, and with them, the beginnings of Jewish literary modernity. Yitzhak Lewis examines the connections between imperial modernization processes in Eastern Europe at the turn of the eighteenth century and the emergence of modern literature in the storytelling of R. Nachman. Reading his tales and teachings alongside the social, legal, and intellectual history of the time, the book's guiding question is literary: How does R. Nachman represent this changing environment in his writing? Lewis paints a nuanced and fascinating portrait of a literary thinker and creative genius at the very moment his world was evolving unrecognizably. He argues compellingly that R. Nachman's narrative response to his changing world was a major point of departure for Jewish literary modernity This is a groundbreaking study There can be no doubt that it will constitute a basic work for understanding the theology and stories of R Nachman modern Judaism and modern literature in general Jonatan Meir author of Literary Hasidism The Life and Works of Michael Levi Rodkinson This book is a rare intellectual achievement Lewis addresses the question of Hasidism s modernity by analyzing key issues in the study of R Nachman such as the question of his Messianity His answers are thought provoking and convincing and his exciting book dramatically extends our understanding of the challenges posed by R Nachman s tales and mystical texts Hannan Hever Yale University

The Turkish Novel and the Quest for Rationality Ayse Ozge Kocak Hemmat,2019-02-04 The Turkish Novel and the Quest for Rationality is the first book to contextualize the Turkish novel with regard to the intellectual developments motivating the Turkish modernization project since the 18th century The book provides a dialectical narrative for the emergence and development of the Turkish novel in order to highlight the genre s critical role within the modernization project In doing so it also delineates the changing forms the novel assumes in the Turkish context from a platform for new literature to a manifestation of crisis in the face of totalizing rationality Vis a vis modernization s engagement with rationality The Turkish Novel and the Quest for Rationality reveals unexplored ways of conceptualizing the development of the genre in non western contexts

Local Histories Patricia Donahue,Gretchen Flesher Moon,2007 In Local Histories the contributors seek to challenge the widely held belief that the origin of American composition as a distinguishable discipline can be traced to a small number of elite colleges such as Harvard Yale and Michigan in the mid to late nineteenth century Through extensive archival research at liberal arts colleges normal schools historically black colleges and junior colleges the contributors ascertain that many of these practices were actually in use prior to this time and were not the sole province of elite universities Though not discounting the elites influence the findings conclude that composition developed in many locales concurrently Individual chapters reflect on student responses to curricula the influence of particular instructors or pedagogies in the context of compositional history and the difficulties inherent in archival research What emerges is an original and significant study of the developmental diversity within the discipline of composition that opens the door to further examination of local histories as guideposts to the origins of composition studies Faulkner's Maturity André Bleikasten,2002
