A Humanist View:

Meaningful Aging from a Humanist Perspective Peter Derkx, Anthony B. Pinn, 2024-03-13 Aging is a topic of growing interest. As life expectancy in western societies is increasing, the growing number and proportion of elderly persons raise urgent questions on how to age well. Predominantly, questions on aging are taken from biomedical and economic paradigms which are intertwined. While people of age are seen as a cost in society, biomedical research aims at curing the declining effects of aging, thus furthering ideals of healthy aging, active aging, or successful aging. In this book, Peter Derkx offers a comprehensive account of meaningful aging, with Anthony Pinn responding in a fruitful and constructive way for the benefit and edification of all of us. Understanding al-Mutanabbî: A Humanistic Psychological Approach (Penerbit USM) Ratna Roshida Ab Razak, 2015-08-21 This book attempts to see al-Mutanabbî, a great poet of the Abbasid period, from the lens of humanistic psychology. An effort has been made to discover the deeper aspects of al-Mutanabbî's personality, which constitutes an important aspect of his artistic expression. Chapters are structured accordingly for better understanding of the whole discussion. The focuses are on Biographical sketch of al-Mutanabbî, which comprises on the historical, political, cultural background of the poet, as well as his life with his patrons. The relationship between psychology and poetry. The major concept of humanistic psychology, as well as the work of Horney, Maslow, and Rogers, upon which being the basis of the humanistic psychology. The Maslovian theory to consider al-Mutanabbî as a self-actualizing person in the light of his relationship with his patron Sayf al-Dawlah. How al-Mutanabbî as a neurotic person overcame the conflict inherent in his relationship with K f r his second patron. This book concludes that the relationship between al-Mutanabbî and Sayf al-Dawlah is the key to his great achievement as a poet, and the humanistic psychological theories thus enable us to gain a better understanding of him as a whole person. This book also proposes that humanistic psychology can open the door to a new world in the study of both Arabic literature and the life of a poet. Marriage and the Family John Prickett, 1985 A presentation of attitudes to marriage and the family in each of the major religious faiths, each article written by a member of the respective faith. Posthumanist Manifesto Roberto Marchesini, 2023-11-22 Posthumanist Manifesto: A Pluralistic Approach compares the posthumanist proposal with humanism and transhumanism in ethics, aesthetics, ontology, and epistemology. Roberto Marchesini clarifies the specificity of the posthumanist approach and the novelty of its theoretical and applicative program. Beyond theoretical aspects of posthumanism, this book proposes new approaches to social models, personal rights, and citizenship, the relationship between the biosphere and the ecological crisis, and the impact of technology. This book answers questions such as: What is posthumanism and why does it have this definition? How does posthumanism differ from other theoretical approaches? and What are the urgencies to be addressed for posthumanist critique? The author explores how posthumanism interprets technology in relationship with the body how to think of a posthumanist anthropology what ontological transformations posthumanism introduces and why we can talk about a paradigmatic metamorphosis with respect to humanism as posthumanism thinks and plans the society of the future The Struggle for Development and Democracy Alessandro Olsaretti,2021-12-13 In The Struggle for Development and Democracy Alessandro Olsaretti argues that we need significantly new theories of development and democracy to answer the problem posed by neoliberalism and the populist backlash namely uneven development and divisive politics This book proposes as a first step a truly multidisciplinary humanist social science to overcome the flaws of neoliberal economic theories and to recover a balanced approach to theories and policies alike that is especially needed in the wake of the 9 11 attacks These led to divisive culture wars which were compounded by the divisive populist politics This book begins to sketch such a humanist social science and applies it to answer one question who is responsible for neoliberalism and the populist backlash All royalties from sales of this volume will go to GiveWell org in honour of Alessandro Olsaretti s memory

Human Dignity and Human Rights

Pablo Gilabert,2018-11-08 Human dignity social movements invoke it several national constitutions enshrine it and it features prominently in international human rights documents But what is human dignity why is it important and what is its relationship to human rights This book offers a sophisticated and comprehensive defence of the view that human dignity is the moral heart of human rights First it clarifies the network of concepts associated with dignity Paramount within this network is a core notion of human dignity as an inherent non instrumental egalitarian and high priority normative status of human persons People have this status in virtue of their valuable human capacities rather than as a result of their national origin and other conventional features Second it shows how human dignity gives rise to an inspiring ideal of solidaristic empowerment which calls us to support people s pursuit of a flourishing life by affirming both negative duties not to block or destroy and positive duties to protect and facilitate the development and exercise of the valuable capacities at the basis of their dignity The most urgent of these duties are correlative to human rights Third this book illustrates how the proposed dignitarian approach allows us to articulate the content justification and feasible implementation of specific human rights including contested ones such as the rights to democratic political participation and to decent labour conditions Finally this book s dignitarian approach helps illuminate the arc of humanist justice identifying both the difference and the continuity between the basic requirements of human rights and more expansive requirements of social justice such as those defended by liberal egalitarians and democratic socialists Human dignity is indeed the moral heart of human rights Understanding it enables us to defend human rights as the urgent ethical and political project that puts humanity first

Problems of Life & Death Kurt Baier,1997 Noted scholar and humanist argues that we can find answers to important human questions without recourse to faith in a supernatural deity What gives purpose to our existence What happens to our mind and body when we die What invests our lives with meaning and propels us to go on from day to day These are some of the questions that have occupied humankind for centuries Do solutions to these problems of life and death depend as many believe on the existence and intervention of a supernatural creator god In this contribution to the Prometheus Lecture Series noted scholar and humanist Kurt Baier one of the leading ethical theorists of the 20th century contends that rational humanism is the best alternative to theism In Problems of Life problems of practical wisdom featuring death and the good and traditional moral problems Part one traces contemporary rational humanism to its roots in ancient Greece its revival in the Christian renaissance its development during the scientific revolution the 18th century Enlightenment the Darwinian theory of evolution and its contemporary developments Part two answers broad questions of practical wisdom from the rationalist point of view The third part offers a rationalist conception of morality to replace the will of God as the impetus for human action Baier then applies this moral stance to a number of contemporary moral problems including how to lead a rewarding life homosexual behavior birth control and suicide With fresh ideas a carefully argued thesis and convincing conclusions Baier shows how the rational humanist can come to grips with some of the deepest problems of human existence without assumptions based on religious faith
